Bradley For Air Strength

Revising Strategy For Atomic War, Must Build Up U. S. Combat Air Power

CHICAGO, Nov. 8—(AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley, in a major address on strategy revision to fit atomic era warfare, said today the joint chiefs of staff have agreed "we must greatly increase our combat air."

The increase, the joint chiefs' chairman said, must be not only in the strategic and tactical strength of the air force, but provide "considerable increase in navy and marine air strength." He said there must be additional forces for all the services — ground, air and sea.

Talks of Atom Bombs

Of nuclear weapons, Bradley said "The airplane continues to be the best method of projecting the power of the atom to the battlefield, and to the heart of any large land-mass nation." At another point, he spoke of "atom bombs of all sizes." Taken together, the two statements suggested that atomic artillery and guided missiles still remain definitely in the experimental and development stage.

Bradley, a foot soldier by training and career until he became chairman of the army-navy-air joint chiefs group, made his strongest case for air power in an address prepared for the American Petroleum Institute. That address was prepared against a background of these events:

1. The address by President Truman last night in which he said the new U.S.-British-French disarmament proposal and the west's intense arms build-up "both have the same aim—the aim of security and peace. If we can't get security and peace one way, we must get it the other."

See Bigger Armed Force

2. Preparation in Washington of preliminary estimates on forces for which the budget of 1953 should provide. Generally, they will include an air force raised from the present 87-wing strength to about 140 and lifting the overall military personnel strength of the armed forces from the 3.5 million goal to about 3.8 million. (Bradley did not use specific figures in his prepared address).

3. A recently concluded series of atomic tests in Nevada which included new small A-bombs for tactical use and the deployment of troops as part of the atomic battlefield studies.

4. Intensification of the European defense effort, urged by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower in his Washington conferences earlier this week.

Start Air Build-up Now

Bradley disclosed that the joint chiefs believed the air build-up must be started now. He said that to meet two major requirements—to achieve proper balance of U. S. military forces and to make major contribution to the collective defensive forces for the North Atlantic treaty nations of western Europe — "we must buy substantially more air power this year." Then he added:

"In arriving at this decision, the joint chiefs of staff gave long months of careful study to a review of our capabilities and our needs. x x x We included in our thinking foreseeable developments in the field of atomic energy and in the field of new weapons. He also considered the economic capability of our country."

Wife Tells All About No Good Hubby But Name

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 8—(AP)—An irate housewife told the internal revenue collector here almost all there was to tell about her "no-good" tax-evading husband.

She wrote the bureau a detailed leter in which she unburdened herself about her husband's long-time tax evasion. But she either got absent-minded or decided she didn't really want to get him in trouble.

She didn't give his name, or sign her own, or give any address.

Virtual Freeze on New Car Models Imposed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—The government today imposed a virtual "freeze," effective Feb. 1, on the introduction of new models by the automobile industry and manufacturers of other major consumer durable goods.

Jackie, In 'Test Run' For Santa, Gets Stuck In Chimney of Home

SANTA CLARA, Calif., Nov. 8—(AP)—Thoughts of Christmas started Jackie Cambra, six, on a test run.

He climbed the trellis of his home here crossed the roof, clambered into the fireplace chimney, and started down. He got stuck.

It required the combined efforts of his mother, several neighbors and the fire department to pull him the rest of the way down — sooty and quite doubtful about impending events.

Allies 'Completely Reject' Red Buffer Zone Proposal at Munsan

MUNSAN, Korea, Nov. 8—(AP)—Allied negotiators today "completely rejected" a Red buffer zone proposal because it "would have relieved the Communists from any pressure to reach agreement" on other Korean truce terms.

The flat turndown came after four hours and 35 minutes spent in finding out just what the Communist plan meant. A United Nations command communique said it was "a fruitless effort."

No Longer Study It

The proposal is no longer under study for hidden meanings or gimmicks," said Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, spokesman for the United Nations Command (UNC.) "We have an agreed understanding on what it means and we reject it."

An official communique explained the Red compromise "would have provided in essence for an immediate and irrevocable demarcation line.

"This in turn would have relieved the Communists from any pressure to reach agreement on other agenda items, deemed essential by the UNC to a full-fledged military armistice."

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chairman of the U. N. armistice subcommitee, said, "we completely rejected the proposal."

May Bring It Up Again

However, Nuckols said there is nothing to prevent the Communists from bringing it up again when subcommitteemen meet again in Panmunjom Friday. But, Nuckols emphasized:

"The U. N. will not consent to anything that will permit military pressures to be relieved on the enemy and thus jeopardize the success of achieving a full scale military armistice."

The big hitch is that the Reds would set up a buffer zone across Korea now with no guarantee it could be altered later, even if the fighting fronts shoved beyond it.

"If we were assured of adjustments in any tentative line of contact now," Nuckols said, "we would be much closer to solution than we are now.

Progress May Come

"There is no reason to believe that progress will not eventually be made beyond our present position. At least we're hopeful for it."

Asked "where do we go from here?" Nuckols conceded that negotiations to end the shooting in Korea "certainly haven't gone as rapidly as we anticipated last July" when they started.

"But I certainly don't think that the past four months have been completely wasted," he said. "There have been such situations before which have been resolved and we have gone ahead at a snail's pace."

Midwest's Storm Hit East States, Now Out to Sea

By the Associated Press

Cold weather chilled the nation's snow struck mid-section today and a wind and rain storm which hit the mid-Atlantic states has moved out to sea.

The east coast, buffeted by gale force winds, heavy rain and sleet, saw the storm shift from the land to Atlantic waters off New England. The storm at its height swamped an area stretching from North Carolina to Maryland.

As the storm moved seaward, special warnings were posted for shipping.

There was some snow and showers in the New England area.

This was the same storm which had earlier in the week given the midwest a snowy deluge, snarling traffic in metropolitan areas and taking a heavy toll on icy highways.

Only light snow fell in the midwest today — over the lower lakes region and upper Ohio valley. But temperatures were low with Chicago and St. Louis at a freezing 18.

Freezing temperatures also were reported last night in the south Atlantic and east Gulf states.

Record Number of MIGs Clash With Sabres; Reds Send Up 190

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 8—(AP)—American Sabre jets clashed three times today with a record number of MIG-15s on the anniversary of the first jet kill in the Korean war.

Far East Air Forces said one MIG was shot down and two were damaged. No American losses were reported.

The Reds sent 190 jets streaking into Korean skies — as many as have ever left their Manchurian bases in a single day. Thirty kept out of range of American guns. The first MIG was downed a year ago today.

The jet battles flared across northwest Korea as Communist ground troops punched at UN lines without getting anywhere. Red probes in the east and center were stopped dead. A hill in the west changed hands twice — the seventh and eighth times in two weeks.

Thursday's flashing air engagements were the first big jet fights in four days. Sabres were heavily outnumbered each time.

Sixty MIGs and 17 Sabres tangled in the morning. One Red was damaged. Sixty Reds and fourteen Sabres fought in the afternoon. One Red plane was downed, and one damaged. No losses were reported in a third battle, late in the day, between 27 Sabres and 40 MIGs.

The kill was made by Maj. William Whisner of Shreveport, La., on his second flight of the day.

Total 135 MIGs Downed

FEAF said that makes a total of 135 MIGs shot down in air combat since Lt. Russell Brown of Pasadena, Calif., flying an F-80 Shooting Star, made the first kill a year ago. Allied pilots claim 49 others probably destroyed and 257 damaged.

FEAF said MIGs have shot down 30 U. S. aircraft of all types.

Communist tanks clanked into action again on the western front under cover of a dense mist

Engage Red Tanks

Twice Wednesday night U. N. command armor moved out ahead of the battle line to engage Red tanks supporting Communist infantry attacks in the sector west and north of Yonchon, 35 miles north of Seoul.

At times Communist tanks or self-propelled guns were firing from within 1,000 yards of the Allied battle line. But the armored Reds failed to gain a foot of ground, Eighth Army headquarters said. The Red infantrymen attacked after a heavy artillery and mortar barrage which included at least one ripple of rockets.

But U. N. infantrymen gave up a hill northwest of Yonghon without a fight. They got off the battle-scarred peak shortly after midnight as a battalion of Reds, greatly outnumbering the Allied infantrymen, swept up the hill. When the Reds hit the top they were greeted by heavy concentration of fire from Allied big guns.

U. N. infantrymen moved back up the slopes after daylight, regaining the crest at 8:10 a. m. Thursday without incident. It was the eighth time the hill changed hands recently.

Higher Phone Rate Schedule Postponed

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 8—(AP)—The State Public Service commission has postponed Southwestern Bell's higher telephone rate schedule for another four months to allow time for extended public hearings.

The hearing on Bell's request for hikes totaling $16,600,000 began last July. They reconvene Nov. 14. The PSC order delays any rate increase at least until next May 10.

W. J. Kennedy New President Of Kiwanians

Miss Mary Hurlbut Tells of Her Work Among Africans

Walter J. Kennedy was chosen 1952 president of Sedalia Kiwanis club at the annual election held during the meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon. Kennedy, retired assistant postmaster, is completing his term as vice president.

William Ward, traffic manager, Schien Truck Lines, was elected vice president; Charles L. Hanley, cashier, Third National bank, re-elected treasurer. Next year's directors will be: Frank Keyser, Ed McLaughlin, Reinhold Fischer, Herb Schranklre, Harry Brunkhorst, Bert Hathaway and George H. Scruton.

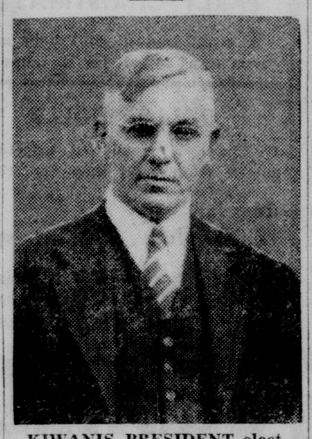

Official installation ceremonies will be held the last meeting in December.

Another of the club's outstanding educational programs was presented by Miss Mary Hurlbut, Sealian, who for many years has been engaged in missionary work in Africa. She was introduced by Clyde Heynen, program chairman.

Miss Hurlbut's talk was an intimate picture of Portugal, its history, development, colonial expansion, agriculture, fishing, class distinctions and primitive means of livelihood still in use.

Miss Hurlbut first went to Portugal in 1924 for educational training in missionary work, later to Angola. Her last trip home was in 1946 and during that period her fascinating stories were heard by all the civic clubs. Again they look forward to hearing her.

Guests Thursday were: Mrs. Susan Berry, Miss Hurlbut's sister and her brother, William Hurlbut; T. L. Yount, St. Louis and Keith Yount with their father, T. H. Yount.

Truman Gives World-Wide Disarmament Plan to Russia Which Calls It 'Ludicrous'

Washington Skeptical Soviets Will Accept 3-Pt. Plan of West Powers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—Official Washington was frankly skeptical today over prospects for favorable Russian reaction to President Truman's appeal to the Kremlin to accept what he called a "foolproof" western plan for worldwide disarmament.

Wholeheartedly endorsing a three-point plan which the United States, Britain and France are placing before the United Nations in Paris, the president declared:

"I urge the Kremlin to accept this proposal."

Secretary of State Acheson outlines the plan in a policy statement today for the General Assembly. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky is scheduled to speak later but probably will not reply, at least in detail, to the new western proposal.

President Truman described it in a nationwide address as providing for:

For Census of Arms

1. An inventory of armies and armaments all over the world, including eventual disclosure of information about atomic weapons —the number of which is presently top secret in both America and Russia. This inventory would develop into a permanent international inspection system.

Would Reduce Strength

2. The negotiation of specific arrangements for reducing armed strength and determining the size and composition of forces which each nation should have. Ultimately atomic weapons would be prohibited.

3. Actually putting the reductions in effect "as soon as that can be done with full knowledge and fairness to all."

Other proposals basically the same in most respects have been put forth — and turned down by Russia—before. This is the main reason for the belief expressed here and in Paris that the Russians will say "no" in some form again even though the present combination of ideas is what Mr. Truman called a "fresh approach."

Includes Atom Count

Perhaps the sharpest departure from previous disarmament plans which the United States has supported, State department informants said, is the decision to extend the weapons and troop census to include atomic bombs.

An atomic control plan, worked out in the UN three years ago and blocked by Russia, provided for disclosure of information as controls became effective.

Mr. Truman said the UN plan fits into the new three-power proposal and explained that under this proposal "atomic weapons would be revealed at the appropriate stage in the process of disclosure."

He did not define the stage but indicated it would be late in the troop census after good faith had been shown by cooperation on less vital information.

"The key to this plan is the proposal to find out exactly and precisely what arms and armed forces each country has," the President said. "This is the first essential, on which all else depends. Unless this step is taken, no real progress can be made toward regulating and reducing armaments."

Inventory by Stages

The arms census, Mr. Truman said, would proceed by stages "disclosing the least vital information first, and then proceeding to more sensitive areas." It would be "checked and verified" by international inspectors.

This means that foreigners would have to move about freely over Russia, as well as over the United States and other countries both outside and inside the iron curtain. This is something the Kremlin has long rejected and is therefore seen as a great barrier in the way of Soviet acceptance of the wholesale disarmament proposal.

Mr. Truman asserted emphatically, however, that any disarmament system which works must be based on just such independently verified information. The "foolproof" system, he said, must also cover all types of weapons, be accepted by all nations having "substantial armed forces" and provide "safeguards that will insure the compliance of all nations."

Down to Earth Approach

The proposed three power system, the President made clear, has in his view all these qualifications and moreover would give the Soviets the same protection against violations "that it gives every other country." It is, Mr. Truman said, "a real, down-to-earth approach, fair to all concerned."

The President himself recognized at least the possibility of Russian rejection. He said the record of postwar relations with Moscow is one of "much bad faith, deceit and broken promises" and of rebuffs and refusals by the Soviets on such matters as international control of atomic energy.

Yet, he said, we cannot permit the history of our times to record that "we failed by default" to obtain a reduction in armed strength.

Declaring that the way to reduce world tensions is to get down to work on just such problems in the UN, the President then directed his appeal to Moscow to accept the proposal, and "to make it known to the people of the Soviet Union."

Soviet's Quick Reject Slams Door to Peace

At Least Prospect For Early Easing Of Tension Is Gone

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—Russia's quick rejection of the new western disarmament plan apparently slammed the door today on all prospects for any early easing of tensions between the western powers and the Soviet Union.

Only 12 hours after President Truman outlined the proposal to the nation in a radio and television address and appealed to the Kremlin to accept it, he got an answer from Soviet Foreign Minister Vishinsky.

His disdainful dismissal of the whole idea advanced by the western powers and his renewed emphasis on Russia's long policy of seeking a simple outlawing of the atomic bomb left little, if any, prospect for talk or negotiation between the east and west on the issue.

Vishinsky's reaction had been anticipated in the western capitals. Even Mr. Truman in his speech had declared that the record of dealing with the Russians on such matters was a record of "rebuffs and refusals." He said, however, that "we cannot permit the history of our times to record that we failed by default" to get disarmament.

Perhaps as important as the disarmament plan itself, on which the western nations presumably will still insist in the general assembly, is the fact that the western powers have put it forward as a kind of preliminary to efforts to get together with the Russians on other issues of peace.

For example, the United States, Britain and France said in a statement prior to Mr. Truman's address that concurrently with the undertaking of the arms reduction project "the major political issues which have divided the world can and must be settled."

Truman Denies Offer to Back Eisenhower

Ike's Office Also Says N. Y. Times Story Is 'Fiction'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—President Truman said today there is no truth to a published report that he had offered to back Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a presidential candidate next year.

The New York Times in an article by its Washington correspondent, Arthur Krock, reported the offer was made during Eisenhower's visit here earlier this week. Krock said Eisenhower neiher accepted nor specifically rejected it. Krock added the report likely would be denied.

"There's not a word of truth in it—that's the only comment I've got," Mr. Truman told reporters at the airport just before leaving for a Florida vacation. He added:

"If Walter Winchell or Walter Trohan had written that, there wouldn't be anything to it but I never thought Arthur Krock would do it."

Winchell is a columnist-commentator. Thohan is chief of the Chicago Tribune's Washington bureau and consistent critic of the Truman administration.

Krock's story said Mr. Truman made the offer at his private luncheon with Eisenhower at the Blair House last Monday.

Officers at Eisenhower's headquarters in Paris also described the Times report as "purely fictional."

Krock wrote that "categorical and even angry denials" were likely to result from his story but that the qualifications of his source were such as to merit publication.

Krock noted that the reported Truman offer of support "necessarily concerned only the Democratic nomination."

Oatis Cited as Example Of Tyranny Victim

PARIS, Nov. 8—(AP)—William N. Oatis, the Associated Press correspondent jailed by Communist Czechoslovakia on charges of spying, was cited today to the 60-nation United Nations assembly by Secretary of State Dean Acheson as an example of the victims of modern tyranny.

Early in his policy statement on the first day of the U. N. debates, Acheson declared:

"It was a matter of proper concern to the entire world recently," said Acheson, "when foreign correspondent William Oatis, honestly seeking to report news in Czechoslovakia, was thrown into prison without a fair trial and on the flimsiest of charges.

Ex-U. N. President Hails U. S. Proposal

PARIS, Nov. 8 — (AP) — The former president of the United Nations assembly, Nasrollah Entezam of Iran, today hailed the United States challenge on arms reduction as "very constructive."

Entezam said the speech by U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson to the assembly calling on Russia to end the Korean war and act sincerely for peace had opened the door for further negotiations. He added that the atmosphere in this sixth assembly session was much better than at the opening of the fifth assembly, of which he was president.

Taft Hopes Truman Proposal Is Accepted

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 8—(AP)—Hope that the disarmanment plan outlined in President Truman's speech would meet with Russian acceptance was expressed here by Senator Robert A. Taft, (R-Ohio).

"The whole world welcomes any proposal such as this — which would tend toward disarmament and peace," the Republican presidential candidate said during a brief stopover at the airport here.

Armistice Services Sunday at Court House Beginning 11 o'Clock

Armistice Day memorial services, commemorating United States armed forces members who lost their lives in the country's wars, will be held Sunday at the Pettis county courthouse. The services will start at 11 a. m.

The Sedalia Veterans Council, composed of American Legion Fosts 16 and 324, Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts 2508 and 5741, and the American War Dads, are sponsoring the service.

John A. Johnson, state commander of the VFW, will be the speaker on the 45-minute program.

School's Out Here, Teachers Are Gone--- To Teachers' Confab

Sedalia teachers are in St. Louis attending the annual meeting of the Missouri State Teachers association which is being held Thursday and Friday.

Schools are closed here for the two-day meeting.

Humorous Speaker's Message At C. of C. Banquet Friday Eve

The annual Chamber of Commerce banquet and installation of officers will be held at 6:30 Friday night at the Smith-Cotton high school cafeteria.

Dr. Howard T. Hill, head of the speech department of Kansas State college, Manhattan, and widely known as a public speaker, has been secured to give the principal address of the evening. Dr. Hill served on the Chamber of Commerce board at Manhattan, was on the faculty of the Chamber of Commerce Institute in Dallas, Tex., and gave the address at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet at Marshall last year. His talks have a message, but are given with a great deal of humor.

The meeting will be opened by A. W. Haller, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and the program follows:

National Anthem.

Invocation by the Rev. Roy Bowers, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Dinner music by Mrs. Edith Ross at the organ which will be loaned through the courtesy of the Shaw Music company.

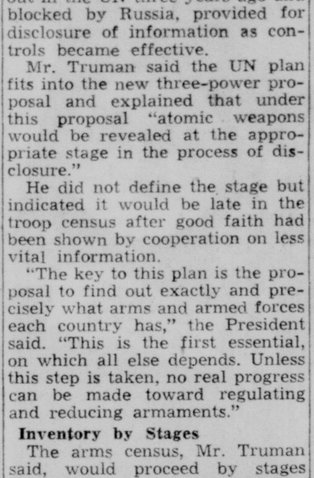

Introduction of guests.

Copies of the annual Chamber of Commerce given everyone present.

Introduction of the retiring board members.

Installation of the new president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, Jack Cunningham.

Installation of other officers and introduction of board members.

Dr. Howard T. Hill

The meeting will be presided over by Mr. Cunningham. He will introduce Joe Ruddick who will present special awards.

Special numbers on the organ by Mrs. Ross.

Introduction of the guest speaker, Dr. Hill.

Reservations for the dinner may still be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce office by Friday noon. Turkey will be the main dish of the dinner, but there will also be fish for those who prefer it.

Vishinsky Replies To Proposal After Acheson Presents It at UN Session

PARIS, Nov. 8—(AP)—The United States presented its "foolproof" arms count plan to the United Nations today. Russia dismissed it as "ludicrous" and called for a world conference by next June 1 to consider the whole disarmament question.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson formally presented the western power plan along with a challenge to Russia to work sincerely for peace in Korea and to show good will.

The plan, which President Truman elaborated last night in a major speech, calls for step-by-step disarmament and a count and limitation of atomic and other weapons under strict UN controls.

Following Acheson to the floor at this sixth session of the UN assembly, Soviet foreign minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky heaped ridicule on the plan, said he could "not keep from laughing."

Gives Soviet Counter Plan

Then he countered with a Soviet proposal whose main points were:

Cessation of hostilities in Korea within 10 days and withdrawal of troops to the 38th parallel.

Withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea within 30 days.

Conclusion of a pact of peace by the Big Five powers, meaning in the disarmament conference by next summer.

There is little likelihood the west would even consider such a plan. The "pact of peace" has been the keystone of Soviet propaganda for months.

Vishinsky concluded his speech with the Soviet counter-proposals. He called upon the UN to declare membership in the North Atlantic treaty "incompatible" with membership in the United Nations.

Recalls Stalin Peace Talk

He recalled statements of Soviet Prime Minister Stalin about the "peaceful co-existence" of the Communist and non-Communist world.

The Soviet delegate then denounced the UN majority plan for control of atomic energy with provisions for international inspections as "control without prohibition." The west already has rejected Russia's atom control plan, because Russia rejects the inspection clauses.

Vishinsky said the west's plan "truly seeks to prevent any sort of atomic control." Then he assailed a recent issue of Collier's magazine which he said had "outrageous illustrations" devoted to destruction by atomic bombs. This magazine was devoted to a fantasy by a group of writers, telling what might happen in World war III against Russia.

Acheson For Korean Truce

Addressing the Russians, Acheson declared that achievement of an armistice in Korea "could open the door to broader consultations of other aspects of the Far Eastern situation." In addition he challenged Russia to: Agree to impartial investigation of the conditions for a free election in all Germany, agree on a peace settlement with Austria, withdraw objections to Italy as a UN member and grant basic human rights to areas the U. S. S. R. controls.

Vishinsky had stock answers to most of these points, and as for the whole western peace appeal, he had this to say:

"I could hardly sleep all night last night because I could not keep from laughing. Even from this rostrum I cannot hold back my laughter."

Vishinsky called the Acheson speech "the same brand of ludicrous argument which will never fool the people of the world."

The western governments, said Vishinsky, advertised a sensational peace plan and "gave birth to a dead mouse."

Oldtimers Say Good Weather Will Follow Heavy Snowfall

JERSEYVILLE, Ill., Nov. 8—(AP) For those who wonder what happened to the old-fashioned Indian summer:

Oldtimers here, looking dolefully at the heaviest November snow storm in history in these parts, insisted today that it's just around the coroner.

One of the oldtimers, C. E. Wedding, looked out at the foot-deep snow and explained:

"This is squaw winter. You always have to have a squaw winter before you get honest to goodness Indian summer. At this season of the year the Indians of the Illinois country didn't do any fall hunting, just lay around the wigwam, smoked and quarreled with the squaws.

Plenty Of Time To Hunt

"The warriors knew there'd be better weather for hunting and laying in the winter meat supply after the first real cold weather came. When the squaw winter ended, the hunters took off and there was about always a period of good weather for hunting buffalo."

Another oldtimer, Arthur Thatcher, disagreed with the squaw winter theory and predicted this winter would be a repetition of the one of 1830-31, when Abe Lincoln came to Illinois.

A biography of Lincoln published in 1874 was found a few years ago. It states:

"In the interval between Christmas, 1830, and January, 1831, snow fell over all central Illinois to a depth of fully three feet on the level. Then came a rain with weather so cold that it froze as it fell, forming a crust of ice over this three feet of snow, nearly if not quite strong enough to bear a man, and, finally, over this crust of ice there was a few inches of light snow.

12 Below A High Reading

"The clouds passed away, and the wind came down upon us from the northwest with extraordinary ferocity. For weeks, certainly not less than two weeks, the mercury in the thermometer tube was not, on any one morning, higher than 12 degrees below zero.

"This snow fall produced constant sleighing for nine weeks."

Bob Thomas In Hollywood----

'Pa Kettle' Pleases Tourists; Strolls on Hollywood Blvd.

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8—(AP)—For years tourists have expected to find movie stars strolling along Hollywood boulevard and for years they have been disappointed. But now the famed street has its dream boy and his name is Percy Kilbride.

The eagle-nosed, wry-voiced actor can be seen ankling up the boulevard every morning. It's a ritual with him. A bachelor, he lives nearby and walking down the big street is his prime exercise, hobby and entertainment.

"I guess I know every cobblestone," he remarked. He also knows every store front, newsboy and orange juice stand. And habitues of the boulevard have grown accustomed to seeing his familiar face.

"They usually say 'hi Percy' or 'hi, Pa' or 'hi, Kettle,'" said the actor, referring to his film portrayal. "Once in a great while I will get a formal 'hi, Mr. Kilbride.' That's usually a tourist from Boston.

"I generally can get by just with a greeting, but sometimes I have to stop and chat a while. That can get to be a bore, so I usually act as though I am in a big hurry to get somewhere."

Kilbride is back at work with Marjorie Main in "Ma and Pa Kettle Go to Paris," the latest in a series which appears to have no end. And on wonder. The films are made in a fast 18 days and their grosses are as large as many super-epics. Considering their cost, the Kettle pictures are probably the most profitable movies made in Hollywood.

"We've tried to figure out the reason for their success," said Kilbride. "I think maybe it's because the movie goer can laugh at these poor slobs and realize how well off he himself it. It's the same sort of formula that paid off in the old days with Marie Dressler and Wally Berry and on the stage before that."

I added that the Kettle series also had the advantage of having the services of two experienced performers.

"Well, I'll admit I have served a long apprenticeship in the theater," he said, adding gallantly, "but I don't know about Marjie."

Kilbride views his success as Pa Kettle with mixed feelings. He found that the characterization has limited his career.

"On the stage I did all kinds of parts, including eccentric comedians," he said. "But the role that brought me out to Hollywood was that of rural sort of a fellow in 'George Washington Slept Here.' I repeated the role in the movie and I've been doing the same sort of thing since."

Would he like to do a dramatic role?

"You bet I would. But I'm afraid I can't convince the producers. They probably think the audience would laugh as soon as it sees my face. And they could be right."

Superintendent For California Muni Utilities

By Mrs. Harold Priess

CALIFORNIA—J. A. Davis of Unionville has been employed as superintendent of municipal utilities in California to succeed E. E. Gamet, who resigned to take over as superintendent in Butler. Mr. Davis, a former employee of the Fairbanks Morse company has been superintendent in Unionville for the last five years. The Davis' expect to be in California by Nov. 15.

Twenty-four members of the beginner's band, which was organized under the direction of Melvin Peterman at the California school, Oct. 18, now have their instruments. Open House At Kendrick Home On Anniversary

One hundred twenty-five relatives and friends attended the golden wedding anniversary open house of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kendrick Sunday, Nov. 4, at their home in Knob Noster, including guests from Sedalia, Windsor, Green Ridge, Centerview, Warrensburg and Kansas City.

Arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and yellow roses were used throughout the house.

A Point de Venice cloth was on the dining table centered with a large bowl of yellow roses and yellow tapers.

Mrs. Townley Culbertson of Kansas City and Mrs. T. E. Cheatham of Warrensburg poured. Others assisting were: Mrs. Wallace Wimer, Mrs. Bob Carr and Mrs. Milton Kendrick.

Greeting the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick, their daughter Mrs. John T. Cheatham and Mr. Cheatham of Warrensburg and sons, Mont Kendrick of Kansas City and Milton Kendrick of Knob Noster. Tom Cheatham of Warrensburg, a grandson, was in charge of the guest book.

Another daughter, Mrs. David Meeker of Berkeley, Calif., was unable to be with them.

Mrs. Kendrick is the former Ada Shy of near Sedalia. Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick were married in Pettis county by the Rev. J. S. Denton on Nov. 6, 1901. Mrs. Kendrick's bridesmaid, Mrs. Roy Taylor of near Sedalia, was the only person present at the celebration who had attended the wedding 50 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick entertained their family Sunday noon at a turkey dinner in Knob Noster. Present were: Mrs. Townley Culbertson and Mont Kendrick of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Cheatham and son, Tom, of Warrensburg and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kendrick.

Green Ridge Garden Club Installs New Officers

Mrs. E. J. Sims, assisted by Miss Nellie Jones and Mrs. S. A. Lusk, was hostess to the members of the Green Ridge Garden club Tuesday afternoon at her home in Green Ridge.

A dessert course was served at 1:30 after which the meeting was opened with the national garden song, "Where a Garden Grows," accompanied by Mrs. E. J. Sims.

The retiring president, Mrs. J. M. Palmer installed the following new officers: Mrs. Wilford Acker, president; Mrs. Harley Williams, vice president; Mrs. S. M. Dowdy, second vice president; Mrs. J. A. Gordon, secretary; Mrs. George Spickert, treasurer; Mrs. Milford Lewis, historian; Mrs. George Ferguson, parliamentarian and Mrs. E. H. Boltz, auditor. Each new officer was presented a chrysanthemum corsage contributed by Mrs. Palmer. Mrs. True Ulmer, assisted by Mrs. L. H. Wadleigh, presented the corsages.

Following the installation of officers, Mrs. Acker read a short poem and gave a short talk concerning the work of the club this coming year.

Mrs. Carl Johnson presented an interesting talk "Our Pilgrim Fathers."

The chairman of the following committees reported: Membership committee through Mrs. L. H. Wadleigh reported the addition of three new members — Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. Nannie Sims and Mrs. Spencer Miller.

Mrs. George Spickert of the budget committee, Mrs. G. D. Rayburn of the activity committee, Mrs. S. M. Dowdy of the program committee and Mrs. Harley Williams of the social committee made reports.

An announcement was made that the annual Christmas dinner and party will be held at the home of Mrs. Nannie Sims and Miss Erma Whallon.

Mrs. J. M. Palmer and Mrs. L. H. Wadleigh judged the potted plants and specials that were on display.

Smith-Cotton High News—

Students Asked to Collect Scrap Metal In C. of C. Drive

By Ruth Maurene Hoffman

Smith-Cotton students have been asked to bring heavy metals, particularly cast iron, steel, aluminum and copper, to school for the scrap metal drive which started Nov. 5 and will continue for sometime. This drive, sponsored by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, will be held in all Sedalia public schools.

Any profit from the sale of the metal will go to the school. Since these materials are urgently needed by steel manufacturers, this is a very vital cause and one well worth supporting.

School Out Two Days

Smith-Cotton will be dismissed Thursday and Friday, so that the faculty may attend the state teachers' meeting held in St. Louis Nov. 8 and 9. Classes will be resumed on Monday.

Home Ec Demonstration

Miss Katherine Temm of the Pet milk company, St. Louis, demonstrated several uses of evaporated milk in cooking before the home economics classes Nov. 6.

Band at Armistice Service

The Smith-Cotton band will play at the memorial service, sponsored by the American Legion, on Armistice Day, Nov. 11. Sonny Rabourn is drum major this year with Jack Roberts as his assistant. Chuck Walch is student director. Miss Jerry Teufel, in charge of the music department at Smith-Cotton, is band director.

Women's Division Has Only Few Areas Left In Chest Drive

Only a few residential sections remain to be covered by the women's division reports Mrs. Cline Cain, chairman, in the 1951 Community Chest campaign. A total of $1,968.08 has been secured through the efforts of the women, who have made a careful house canvass since the campaign opened on Oct. 22. Total Chest collections through today were $14,883.07.

Although every effort was made to reach every person who would not be solicited at work, Mrs. Cain reports that inevitably a few were overlooked, or the workers were unable to contact them for one reason or another. "Anyone who wishes to make a contribution to the Community Chest and has not been contacted should call the Community Chest office, telephone 950," said Mrs. Cain, "and a worker will pick up the contribution."

Several individuals have brought in checks or cash which had been held in readiness and turned them over to the Chest office in the Chamber of Commerce building. They are: N. L. Nelson, Rev. E. W. Bartley, Ethel Hammond, J. F. McAninch, L. E. Schomaker, B. E. Heacock, Mrs. J. A. Lamy, L. H. Kuecker, C. L. Carter, Ted Gardner, Mrs. H. L. Terry and Lacy P. Belt.

The following women took part in gathering funds for the Chest campaign: Mrs. Leo Bopp, captain, Mrs. Edward Drew, Mrs. Paul Hausam, Mrs. Margaret Beucke; Mrs. Neil Reyburn, captain, Mrs. James Blue, Mrs. Ruth Latham, Mrs. Cleo Tawse, Mrs. Harry Kanter, Mrs. Ruth M. Kehde, Mrs. J. D. Johnson.

Jane Won't Adopt Her Irish Laddie

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8—(AP)—Actress Jane Russell says she has no intention of adopting the 15-month-old boy she brought to America from London.

She merely brought him to this country in hopes somebody else will, Miss Russell said after her arrival here last night. "His mother said she was ill and had two other children and knew the little boy would get a good home in America. I just couldn't resist," she said.

Good Seats Still Available For Passion Play Performances

Harry Naugel, ticket chairman for the Sedalia Rotary club, sponsors of the world famous Black Hills Passion Play to be seen at the Liberty theatre, Nov. 12-15, urges all Sedalians to purchase their tickets for the production as early as possible.

Good seats are still available for all performances at the Passion Play box office, Hoffman Hardware company, 305 South Ohio.

The noted drama has just concluded its Kansas City performance where it broke all time attendance records for any production in that city and was witnessed by more than 80,000 people.

All the Passion Play properties, including the scenery, costumes electrical equipment and menagerie stock, camels, donkeys, etc., will arrive in Sedalia Sunday night, Nov. 11, and serious work will start immediately in preparing the stage at the Liberty theatre for the largest production ever to be presented in Central Missouri. Technicians will work all night Sunday and all day Monday getting ready for the premiere showing Monday night at 8:15.

Student matinees will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for students of Sedalia public, parochial and trade area schools. Tickets for all student performances are on sale at all schools. Students must attend on the day assigned to their schools.

JULIO AVERILL plays the part of Priest Dathan in the world famous Passion Play, which features Josef Meier in the role of the Christus, with a supporting cast of 125, to be seen at the Liberty theatre Nov. 12 through 15. The production is sponsored locally by the Sedalia Rotary club.

Windsor Baptist Church Holding Revival Meeting

WINDSOR — The Windsor First Baptist church began a revival meeting Sunday, Nov. 4, as a part of the South Missouri Evangelistic Crusade conducted among Missouri Baptist churches Nov. 4-18. The Rev. R. L. Shank of Camdenton, vice-president of Faith Bible schools near Camdenton, pastor of the Baptist church of Macks Creek, is the evangelist.

Services were at 7:30 with music under the direction of Clark Henry.

Van Natta Clubbers Have Party for 80

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stark and family entertained the Van Natta community Hallowe'en party at their home Oct. 30 at 8 p. m. The room was decorated in orange and black strips of crepe paper and jack-o-lanterns and pumpkins.

About 80 person gathered in the hall and were masked and costumed. Lewis won a prize for the most comical, masked, Mrs. Waldo Marshall for the best dressed and Mrs. John Balhah for keeping her identity secret for the longest time.

Games were played and refreshments were served.

Central America Needs A Rubber "Miracle"

PENANG, Malaya — (AP) — Malaya's rubber dealers say it would take a "miracle" to make Americans' dream come true of successfully transplanting rubber trees from Asia to Central America.

Heah Joo Seang, president of the Penang and Province Wellesley Rubber Traders Association, said news that America is so experimenting is "nothing new to us."

"Only a miracle could bring success, considering the climatic conditions and the labor problems in Central America," he said.

Good System

MONTREAL — (AP) — There are three good reasons for the fact juvenile delinquency is not a great problem here, said Assistant Inspector Ovila Pelletier, director of the Police Juvenile Club. He listed these as "good parents, good children, and good organizations contributing time and money to help the children."

Sedalia Dental Society Meets Tuesday Night

The Sedalia Dental Society held its regular monthly meeting at the Old Missouri Homestead Nov. 6.

A scientific lecture, illustrated by colored pictures, was given by Paul Minter of Kansas City.

The snow-storm prevented other out-of-town guests from attending.

Election of officers will be held next month.

Quisenberry Club Has a Book Review

The Quisenberry Homemakers Extension club met at the home of Mrs. C. W. Chappell and Mrs. Orin Chappell Wednesday, Oct. 24. A contributive luncheon was enjoyed at the noon hour by 14 members and two guests, Mrs. Marvin Arnold and daughter and Mrs. Phillip Hoffman and son, Author Chappell. An informative talk on "Parliamentary Procedure" was given by Mrs. T. H. Haggard. Mrs. Marvin Arnold of the Maplewood club talked on "Child Hygene."

A round table discussion of the review of the book "The Road Ahead" was led by Mrs. P. S. Reed.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Rissler, Wednesday, Nov. 28.

Surgeons Able To Install New Stomach For You

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8—(AP)—Surgeons now can take out a person's stomach and install an artificial one all in a single operation.

Three such operations were described today by Dr. Emerick Szilagyi, Dr. Thomas H. Connell, Jr., and Dr. Laurence S. Fallis of Henry Ford hospital, Detroit, in a paper for delivery to the American College of Surgeons.

The artifical stomach, which is the new part of the operation, is made out of a middle section of the patient's own intesinal tract—the end of the small intestine and the beginning of the large intestine.

That particular section of the intestines was chosen because of the likelihood that it could adapt itself to its new job better than other tissues.

Two of the patients died, one from cancer and the other from peritonitis, but the third is doing well.

It take a surgical team four to six hours for the operation.

It is too early yet to tell whether the advantages outweigh the risk of long operations, the doctors added.

Wife Takes Back Seat In Deer Hunter's Home

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 8 — (AP) — Edgar H. Lineback brought home a 126-pound deer from snow-covered woods near Ellington, Mo., today. But he'll have to go back—to get his wife.

Lineback explained heavy snowfall kept him from returning to a farm house near West Fork where his wife was staying. So he made the 120-mile trip without her.

Did Votes Show '51 Trend?

Republicans Believe Elections Indicate Trend To Them, But Democrats Disagree

WASHINGTON,. Nov. 8—(AP)—Congress members divided sharply today over whether Tuesday's election results foreshadowed any national trend which would affect the 1952 vote.

Some Republican lawmakers claimed they saw in the returns from around the country an indication their party's star is in the ascendancy and is sure to shine over the White House after next November's election.

Democrats, on the other hand, were inclined to discount all that as wishful thinking. They said Tuesday's balloting reflected local issues almost entirely — even in cases of Democratic successes.

McKinney Sees No Trend

Outside Congress, the new Democratic national chairman, Frank E. McKinney, pointed to what he termed "spotty results" and said, "I'm firmly of the opinion that no definite trend is indicated."

On the Republican side, Senator Tobey of New Hampshire, regarded the outcome as "a big help" for those who want Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the GOP presidential nomniee next year.

But Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.) declared there was "no national trend toward Eisenhower, Taft, President Truman or anyone else."

Senator Taft of Ohio, so far the only avowed GOP candidate for the presidency, already is waging a vigorous campaign for the nomination. Mr. Truman says he has made up his mind whether to run again, but isn't ready to disclose his decision.

Ike Backers Enthused

Eisenhower backers appear more convinced than ever the general will be available for the Republican nomination, even though he carefully avoided making any positive public declaration this week during his quick Paris-Washington round trip.

Tobey, an old Eisenhower-for-President hand, said election results in New York, Philadelphia and elsewhere demonstrated:

"1. That corruption in government is the major political issue of our time.

"2. That the people are looking on their own and independently—outside of 'old guard', 'regular' party labels—for the means to bring honesty back into public life."

And to prove to the people that the Republicans intend to give them "government by integrity," Eisenhower must be chosen as the party's presidential nominee, Tobey declared in a statement issued through his office here. The senator is convalescing from a stroke at his New Hampshire home.

Election of Rudolph Halley, who was the committee's chief counsel, as president of New York's city council was cited by Tobey as an example of the public's desire for honesty and integrity in government. Holley copped his victory with splinter party support, defeating Tammany hall's Democratic incumbent and the Republican candidate as well.

In Philadelphia, clean government also was the issue in an election which put a Democrat, Joseph F. Clark, Jr., in as mayor. Republicans had held the post for 68 years.

Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.) said, "There apparently was some turn-the-rascals-out sentiment in the voting in New York, Philadelphia and elsewhere, but I don't think it had the slightest national significance." He added:

"There always are rascals in every party and there always will be campaigns to clean them out."

Rep. Bolling (D-Mo.) said that if there was any national trend in Tuesday's voting "it was one bearing out polls which indicate there are a lot of independent voters in the United States."

OBITUARIES

Alfred Frank Lingle

Funeral services for Alfred Frank Lingle, who died Nov. 2 at the Veterans hospital in Wadsworth, Kas., were held Sunday afternoon at the Kidwell funeral home in Versailles.

Graveside services were conducted at 11 o'clock Monday morning by the American Legion Post, No. 16, at Crown Hill cemetery, Sedalia.

Mr. Lingle was the youngest son of a family of one girl and six boys of the late Simon S. and Martha Ann Lingle and was born Nov. 5, 1880, in Morgan county.

On Oct. 20, 1913, Mr. Lingle was married to Miss Clara May Housel at Sedalia and to this union was born one daughter just two days before Mrs. Lingle died July 19, 1914. The daughter died on Sept. 3, 1917.

Mr. Lingle was married on March 14, 1923, to Mrs. Ethel Lloyd of Webb City and she died on Aug. 25, 1938.

Surviving are three brothers, W. M. and J. J. Lingle of Versailles and W. E. Lingle of San Bernardino, Calif., and several nieces and nephews.

A sister, Catherine Lingle, and two brothers, Robert and David Lingle, preceded him in death.

Mr. Lingle was a plasterer by trade and in his early life worked in Morgan and Pettis counties, later moving to Oklahoma where he continued his trade for many years. He returned to Missouri in 1939, spending the greater part of his time with his brother, J. J. Lingle and family. At the time of his death he lived at the Richarson's apartments in Sedalia.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Lingle was a member of the American Legion. He was also a member of the Baptist church with his membership in the Sapulpa, Okla., church.

Federal Approval For Price Rise On Lamb, Mutton

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—The government today approved new ceilings expected to bring higher prices in most butcher shops for lamb, mutton and veal.

The new regulations issued by the Office of Price Stabliziation (OPS) are effective next Tuesday. One sets dollars and cents ceilings for wholesale lamb, yearling lamb and mutton.

The second order authorizes retailers to figure new ceilings weekly to reflect changes in wholesale prices of lamb, mutton and veal. This order permits markets to pass on to the public any changes in prices up or down.

Sgt. Frank Gerlecz Returns From Korea

Sgt. Frank Gerlecz arrived at San Francisco on the General Polk Nov. 2 from Korea, according to word received by his wife, who has gone to Kansas City to meet him.

Sgt. Gerlecz, who served overseas in World War II, was recalled to duty in November, 1950, and has been in Korea for the past six months. Mrs. Gerlecz has been residing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanigan, 505 East Fourth.

Sgt. and Mrs. Gerlecz will be located in Sedalia for the present.

PTA Publicity Discussed Before Council Wed.

Suggetions on how to improve their publicity and how to have more publicity for the various Parent-Teacher association units in Sedalia were given for the PTA council at the meeting Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the First Baptist church.

The speaker was Carl McIntire, news editor of The Sedalia Democrat, who stressed getting reports in the paper immediately after the meetings and including in them the most pertinent facts of the program and business sessions.

Philip McLaughlin talked to the council on the 1952 Red Cross campaign and asked the cooperation of the PTA units in he residential district canvassing.

Mrs. Roy Brown of Horace Mann school opened the meeting with the devotional.

Each unit reported on programs and meetings of the month. It was pointed out that all lunch rooms are open and are serving 150 to 200 lunches daily.

The unit reports were given by: Mrs. Elmer Maune, Broadway; Mrs. Harold Painter, Horace Mann; Mrs. Addison Taylor, Mark Twain; Mrs. Charles Poynter, Jefferson; Mrs. Ralph Salmon, Washington; Mrs. William Morgan, Whittier; and Mrs. John Loague, Smith-Cotton.

A social hour, with Horace Mann leaders in charge, followed the business meeting.

Bank Bandits Caught, Still Have $93,569

Three Youths, Girl Fail to Resist Cops After Fled Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 8—(AP)— A quick round trip ended in Milwaukee last night for three young men and their red headed girl friend —13 hours after a precision planned bank holdup which netted them $93,569.

They exchanged banter but there was visible trembling as the four appeared before U. S. commissioner Floyd Jenkins. He jailed them under $50,000 bond each on identical charges of violating the federal bank robbery act.

"That's reasonable," one of them said.

Jenkins set next Wednesday as arraignment date for James Joseph Leather, 36, Chicago; Harold Dennis Nall, 19, who gave his last address as Los Angeles; Glenn Dale Maroe, 21, who also said he was from Los Angeles and Anne Slyder, Chicago.

There was nothing like that in their plans when the three men stepped out of a snowstorm into the northwestern branch of the First Wisconsin National Bank at 10:30 a. m. yesterday.

Two of them, armed with a rifle and shotgun, took up posts at the door while the third vaulted behind the cages and scooped money into a pillow case.

Soon one of the men at the door began counting loudly.

"Twenty-two, 21, 20 . . ."

When he reached seven, he shouted:

"Come on boys, let's get out of here."

They were gone into the snowstorm and speeding westward in a dark colored sedan. But six blocks away they switched cars. The value of that maneuver was lessened by a postman who saw them get into a light blue later model sedan.

The four rode the main route to Chicago — highway 41 — to the Wisconsin-Illinois border. Lake county, Ill., deputy sheriffs Clayton Tiffany and Thomas Cuker, alerted about the holdup, spotted the car. Their suspicions were heightened when one man kept turning to watch them.

The deputies halted the car and jumped out with guns ready. But they met no resistance. Miss Slyder was in front between two of the men while the third man was hidden under blankets in the back seat.

The FBI reported the loot was recovered, some already on the persons of the bandits but most of it with the bank tape still around the bundles of bills.

Mental Patient Says He Set Hospital Fires

JACKSON, La., Nov. 8—(AP)—Superintendent L. F. Magruder says a Negro mental patient admited setting fires which caused $469,765 damage at Louisiana's mental hospital here.

The fires Tuesday night destroyed an abandoned ward, a mattress factory and a paint truck, and damaged a Negro male ward and a hog barn. No one was injured and none escaped.

Dr. Magruder identified the patient yesterday only as a 21-year-old Negro man.

15 Germans Killed In Train Collision

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 8—(AP)—Fifteen Germans died and 12 suffered serious injury in a train collision here today.

A passenger train crashed into the rear of a freight train as it pulled into the station at nearby Walpertskirchen.

This was the sixth serious train wreck in west Germany in the last 10 days.

Egypt Defers Action On Mobilization Bill

CARIO, Nov. 8—(AP)—Egypt's cabinet deferred action today on a general mobilization bill which would put all men between 18 and 50 years of age in the army in the event of war or threat of war.

The measure was prompted by the crisis with Britain over the Suez Canal and the Sudan.

Mrs. Ryan's Trial Ends In Hung Jury

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif., Nov 8—(AP)—Wealthy Mrs. Margaret Ryan's manslaughter trial ended in a hung jury last night. The prosecutor said he would try her again.

The jury of nine men and three women was dismissed by Superior Judge Ray B. Lyon after nine hours of deliberation.

The jurors — most of them ranchers—said they split 8 to 4. The judge forbade them to say how they were divided. The former New York society leader is charged with fatally shooting Leonard D. Ray, 22, on her nearby ranch last June.

More Ships Worked, But Strike Holds

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—An upswing in the number of ships being worked in New York's 25-day wildcat dock strike was reported today by customs officials, but strike headquarters scoffed at any idea of a break in their ranks.

A spokesman for the customs service said 74 ships were being loaded or unloaded and termed it the "busiest day since Oct. 19" when the strike widened into a complete tie-up of the port.

The customs count showed 70 ships still strikebound today.

On Monday, 56 ships were being worked and 84 were strikebound

Mysterious Malady Infects U. N. Troops

TOKYO, Nov. 8—(AP)—A mysterious new disease, apparently brought to the battle lines by Chinese Communists troops, has infected an undisclosed number of United Nations soldiers in Korea.

Brig. Gen. William E. Shambora, Far East command surgeon, disclosed the presence of the disease today. He said it was new to western medicine and its exact nature has not been determined.

However, he said, it bore a striking resemblance to a malady called epidemic hemorrhagic fever, which the Japanese discovered in Manchuria in 1939.

At Least 4,000 Deer Killed In Mo. Hunt

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 8—(AP)—Despite snow that drifted up to four feet deep in the Missouri Ozarks, the 1951 deer season ended last night with at least 4,000 whitetails in the bag. That's a record for recent years.

An estimated 25,000 Missouri hunters struggled through the snow drifts during the three-day season. Many were marooned in the back country because their automobiles just couldn't make it over the rough woods roads.

Sea Holds Fate Of Five Sailors Of Burned Ship

Little Hope Left They Survived, But Search Continues

SEATTLE, Nov. 2 — (AP) — The rolling waves of the bitterly cold North Pacific held the secret today of the fate of five missing crewmen of the freighter George Walton.

Despite a continuing sea-air vigil at the scene of the burning ship 390 miles off the Washington coast, little hope remained that the men survived the tragedy which cost seven other lives.

Twenty-four of the 33 men who were driven to life craft when an explosion and fire engulfed the ship Tuesday afternoon and killed three of the crew, were enroute to coastal cities for treatment. None was reported in serious condition. Four men were lost during rescue attempts by merchant vessels which speeded to the scene; the other five have not been seen.

But the troubled waters of the storm-tossed spot were being carefully criss-crossed by a Coast Guard cutter and navy submarine while an airplane droned continually overhead.

The search did not relax for nightfall and searchlights and flares were used in an ever-widening circle around the drifting, fire-lighted ship. Today, perhaps, salvage operations can be started on the George Walton, 13th Coast Guard district officers said. It appears in no immediate danger of sinking and if a line can be made fast it may be towed to the coast.

The survivors, who were pulled from life boats by the Japanese freighter Kenkon Maru and the Panamanian Katherine, were being taken by those ships to a Pacific coast port believed to be Vancouver, B. C.

Frankie and Ava Married in Secrecy-Shrouded Ceremony

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8—(AP)—Frank Sinatra and Ava Gardner stole away to an undisclosed honeymoon retreat today after a mystery-shrouded wedding at an exclusive home in west Germantown.

While the couple sipped champagne and feasted on turkey last night, a score of newsmen and photographers tramped the wet pavement outside the home hoping to talk to the bride and groom or to take pictures of them.

But the newlyweds would have none of that. They sneaked in through the back door and three and a half hours later summoned a half-dozen policemen in red cars and a patrol wagon to guard an escape route.

The only information on the wedding itself came from a press agent for Universal studios and from Emmanuel (Mannie) Sacks, vice-president of the Radio Corporation of America, who attended the ceremony at the home of Sack's brother, Ernest.

Despite all the secrecy, there was considerable furore about the affair. Frankie threatened to punch a photographer. And there was a wild auto chase in an effort to throw newsmen off the trail.

Neighborhood residents, many of them girls in bobby socks, joined the newsmen in their vain vigil, pleaded with the vigilant policemen for "just one peek" at the couple.

The 10-minute ceremony last night began at 6:45 with Judge Joesph Sloane officiating. Mannie Sacks gave away the bride. Band leader Axel Stordahl and his wife, June Hutton, were best man and matron of honor.

Others in the party were Dick Jones, a friend of Sinatra's, who played the wedding march on the piano; Sinatra's mother and father, from Hoboken, N. J.; Ava's sister, Beatrice; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sacks, and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Levy. Levy is the director of radio station WCAU, Philadelphia CBS affiliate.

Best Dressed Prof on Campus Now Best Dressed Jail Bird

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Nov. 8—(AP)—Yesterday he was the "best-dressed prof" on the Santa Barbara college campus.

Today he's the "best-dressed prof" in the Santa Barbara county jail.

Dr. Gwynne Nettler, athletic, handsome bachelor of 38, is charged with burglarizing homes here in nearby Montecito. He also is accused of carrying a pistol concealed in his car.

Nettler was arrested yesterday on a tip from a woman. Police said she told them he had mistreated her.

One of the sociology professor's classes is on methods of crime detection. In a recent lecture he said, "almost every person commits several crimes each week," and blamed "social distintergration" for the prevalence of criminal tendencies.

Sheriff John Ross said the unidentified woman sent him a sealed envelope months ago, with instructions to open it if anything happened to her. Then yesterday she telephoned him to open the letter. Inside, said Ross, was a detailed statement of how four burglaries were committed, signed with Nettler's name.

Nettler denied the charges and denied signing the letter.

Expert Calls Factory Dispersal Program 'Myth;' Gov't Reply Says 'Overstated'

THE CRITICAL 19: Against a crowded industrial background, this map spots the 19 areas which accounted for over half of America's industrial capacity before the Korean war. Today, says Leonard Yaseen, these areas turn out and even greater percentage of United States industrial output.

By Richard Kleiner
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—A leading authority on plant dispersal calls America's war plant dispersal program a complete myth.

"It simply isn't happening," says Leonard Yaseen, New York partner of the Fantus Factory Locating Service, plant location consultants. "The nation is now far more vulnerable to enemy attack than ever before."

He quotes government statistics to back up his opinion. His firm conducted a survey, which shows that new war plants are being built in the same areas already industrially overcrowded. There are 19 such areas, in which over half of America's industrial capacity was jammed before the Korean war.

Today, says Yaseen, these same areas account for an even greater percentage of U.S. industrial output than they did in 1949. More and more war plants are going up, or being expanded in the critical 19: Baltimore, Boston, Buffalo, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dayton, Detroit, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Minneapolis-St. Paul, New York-northeastern-New Jersey, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Providence, Rochester, N. Y., St. Louis, San Francisco-Oakland, and Youngstown.

* * *

Yaseen's survey was based on government-issued Certificates of Necessity. These are a recent device, which permits companies building new plants or expanding existing ones, to write off taxes quickly. Virtually no war plant has been built, since they went into effect, without the management taking advantage of the money-saving certification plan.

Up to the middle of July, the Defense Production Authority had approved 2,669 such certificates. Of these, 480 were for certain facilities—such as transportation, storage and public utilities — which, by their nature, must be built in the heavily-populated centers.

But, of the remaining 2,189 certificates, 67.2 per cent — 1,473 — were approved for new facilities in cities of over 100,000 population. And these included a whopping 925 which went for new or expanded plants in the hypercritical 19.

For example, the DPA approved the building of a $16,500,000 plant making film in Rochester, N.Y., a $5,000,000 plant making aircraft components in St. Louis; a $3,000,000 airplane motor plant in Los Angeles; and several huge tank plants in the Detroit area.

State-by-state, Yaseen's figures show the same thing. Of plants certified in the value of $1,068,000,000 for Pennsylcania, $877,000,000 were to be spent for construction in the Pittsburgh and Philadalphia areas. In Michigan, 70 per cent of the dollar volume was going for new plant facilities in Detroit, which Yaseen calls "The most vulnerable air target in the U.S."

* * *

These, he emphasizes, were passed on by the Defense Production Authority. But as recently as 1948, he says, another government agency—the National Security Resources Board — listed certain qualifications as safety factors for new plants.

Among these were that they should be built in cities of less than 50,000 population, at least 10 miles from a major city, at least three miles from any strategic industry.

Yaseen points out that there are many locations, which fit those qualifications, where these new plants could be built.

"If we are to prevent atomic or even conventional bombing from virtually paralyzing our war machine," says Yaseen, "immediate steps should be taken to check area vulnerability before Certificates of Necessity are issued.

"Seventy-two per cent of our total steel ingot capacity is concentrated in four states. Our aircraft production is concentrated in live large areas, and our oil refineries are centered in several major districts. Three-quarters of our machine tool industry — the key to our entire mass production economy—is located in communities in highly-concentrated vulnerable areas.

"And they keep building plants in the same old areas. You'd think they'd never heard of the atom bomb."

Government Position

WASHINGTON — NEA — Because of the controversial nature of Leonard Yaseen's opinion, expressed in the accompanying story, NEA's Washington Bureau asked Presley Lancaster, in charge of the plant dispersing program for the National Security Resources Board, for a reply.

Lancaster said Yaseen's trguments have "some merit," but, he added, they were "considerably overstated."

First, said Lancaster, in approving Certificates of Necessity, speed of getting production was absolutely the most important thing considered, wiht the problem of dispersal somewhere down the line.

Lancaster's next point was that Yaseen's argument, that so many plants are located in one city, isn't exactly valid. He says even if a firm has a Detroit address, for example, the plant can be far enough outside of Detroit to make it dispersed according to present NSRB standards.

Lastly, says Lancaster, Yaseen quotes the 1948 NSRB standards of dispersal. The 1951 program is considerably different, although it does say that the 1948 "general conclusions are as sound today as they were three years ago." However the 1951 program eliminates the need of plants being built only in cities of under 50,000 population. The new recommendation is merely that new industrial areas "should be 10 to 20 miles from any densely populated or highly industrialized section of an urban area."

This, says Lancaster, is not violated by many of the new plant locations as Yaseen claims.

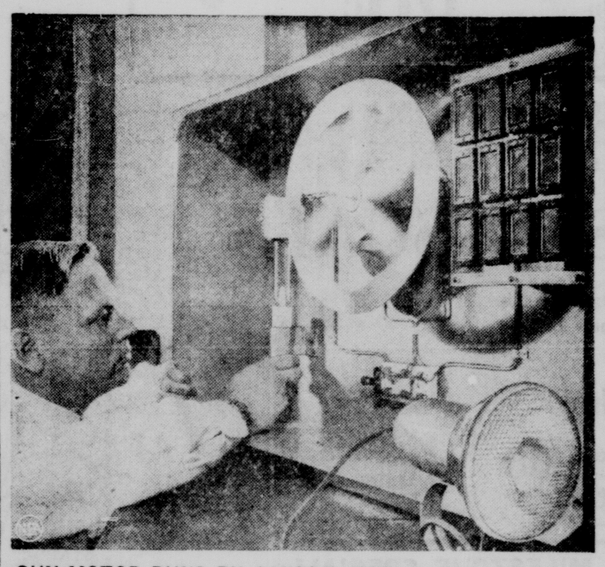

Rev. Kenneth Johnston To California Church

CALIFORNIA—The Rev. Kenneth C. Johnston was reappointed pastor of the California and Clarksburg Methodist churches by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt at the annual Methodist conference in St. Louis. The Rev. and Mrs. Johnston moved to California in the summer of 1950 when he was appointed to fill out the conference years of the Rev. George W. Heslar, who was transferred to Cape Girardeau. He was appointed to his first full year here at the conference last fall.

FOXHOLE "STOWAWAYS" — Sailors Donald Kirk of Chiloquin, Ore., and Robert Rice of Grass Valley, Calif., were ready to return to the more peaceful life of the Navy after "stowing away" with the First Marine Division in Korea for a month's duty as front-line infantrymen. Bored by the "dull life" aboard ship, the pair went AWOL at Inchon Harbor and hitchhiked their way into battle. (Marine Corps photo via NEA-Acme Telephoto.)

SUN MOTOR RUNS BY CANDLE, TOO—Sunlight, lamp light or the mere flicker of a small candle will set the balsa wood wheel on the shaft of this "sun motor" to spinning. General Motors engineers in Detroit developed the device, which is being shown throughout the country in GM's "Preview of Progress" science shows, to illustrate an important principle—that sunlight is power, and that it holds vast potential as a power source. GM engineers concede their "sun motor" is an extremely low-efficiency power producer, and that it holds no clues as to how to harness the sun's energy.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

GOP Considers Eisenhower Babe-in-the-Woods Politician

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 — Republicans-for-Eisenhower heaved a big sigh of relief when their proposed candidate finally climbed on his plane and flew back to Faris. During the short time he was here, they estimated that their man had helped Senator Taft pick up about 100 additional delegates for the GOP nomination.

"He may be a great general," mourned one Republican active in the Eisenhower-for-President organization, "but he certainly is a babe-in-the-woods when it comes to politics."

What caused Eisenhower supporters to tear their hair was the way their man cut the ground out from under his chief backer with the statement that he hadn't heard from Sen. James Duff of Pennsylvania "directly or indirectly for a long, long time."

In the first place this was not true. For, earlier in the day, Ike's own aide, Lt. Col. Robert L. Schulz, had phoned Senator Duff from Louisville. He phoned around Sunday noon and Eisenhower's disclaimer to the press was Sunday afternoon.

Second, word was sent to Senator Duff two weeks before Eisenhower arrived that he was coming and to keep November 4, 5 and 6 open.

Third and more important, Duff had been waging a steady though quiet campaign to organize district leaders throughout the country and take delegates away from Taft. Last month, for instance, he made two speeches in North Carolina urging Eisenhower for President. Immediately following the two speeches, John Gordon Bennett, scion of the famed New York Herald editor, went to North Carolina, began the actual work of pledging delegates. Before he finished, he had pretty well undercut Taft. North Carolina looked safe for Ike.

Anguished Phone Calls

Most essential part of the Bennett-Duff sales talk, naturally, had to be that Eisenhower was a Republican, had given definite assurances that he would be a candidate and would not leave his followers out on a limb. Without such assurances, no local politician wants to deal.

Imagine their horrified surprise, therefore, when local leaders read in the press that Eisenhower had not heard from Senator Duff "directly or indirectly for a long, long time."

Immediately long distance phone calls began coming in to Eisenhower lieutenants from various parts of the country.

"You said Jim Duff was masterminding the general's campaign," protested one North Carolina Republican. "How can he master mind the campaign when he hasn't even been in touch with him? You said Duff had assurances Ike would run. But Ike says he hasn't heard from him.

"In view of that," continued the irate North Carolinian, "we're getting in touch with Dave Ingalls (Taft's campaign manager) as fast as we can. We've got to protect ourselves."

What the North Carolinian had in mind was the way Eisenhower rebuffed various Democrats who wanted to draft him in 1948, making them too late to catch the Truman bandwagon. Truman has never forgiven Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, Jimmy Roosevelt, Sen. Olin Johnston of South Carolina and others who plumped for Ike. Republicans know this, and figure Taft might be just as vindictive as Truman.

Also what local politicians live for is patronage, and if a new Republican in the White House does not like them, they are out of luck on postmasters, U. S. marshals, tax collectors and everything else.

Those are some of the sordid but essential ABC's of politics which Eisenhower doesn't understand.

Later he recovered part of his political fumble by announcing that he had had a phone conversation with Senator Duff and invited him to visit him in Paris. But both Taft, Republican, and Truman, Democrat, are gleeful that the general came back to the U. S. They think that his brief words won them a lot of hay."

Behind The Peace

Besides the genuine desire for peace, two key factors are behind the American disarmament proposals in Paris:

1. A report from U. S. ambassador Allan Kirk, just returned from Moscow, that both Stalin and the Politburo are suffering a case of war jitters, think the USA is ready for war, and that Russia should get the drop on us. Kirk warned that there is grave danger Russia may start war for this reason; therefore urged the President to be extremely careful about all public statements on Russia — at least until the war hysteria dies down.

2. The effective manner in which Russia has put across the idea that it is the real advocate of peace and that the United States is war mongering.

In Berlin last summer, this writer saw visual results of this propaganda. The blue and white flag of peace: The words Paix, Paz, Mir, Beke — peace in every language — were plastered all over East Berlin. Talking with both east German and west German youths, it was obvious that this propaganda had sunk home.

This was also true to some extent in more sophisticated but war weary France, England, Belgium, Italy. We have been urging them to arm for possible war. They don't want war, and the Russians keep telling them they don't want war either. So many Europeans are inclined to believe that we are the warmongers.

That's one reason the present peace proposals at Paris — even if they fail — are so important, if only for propaganda reasons.

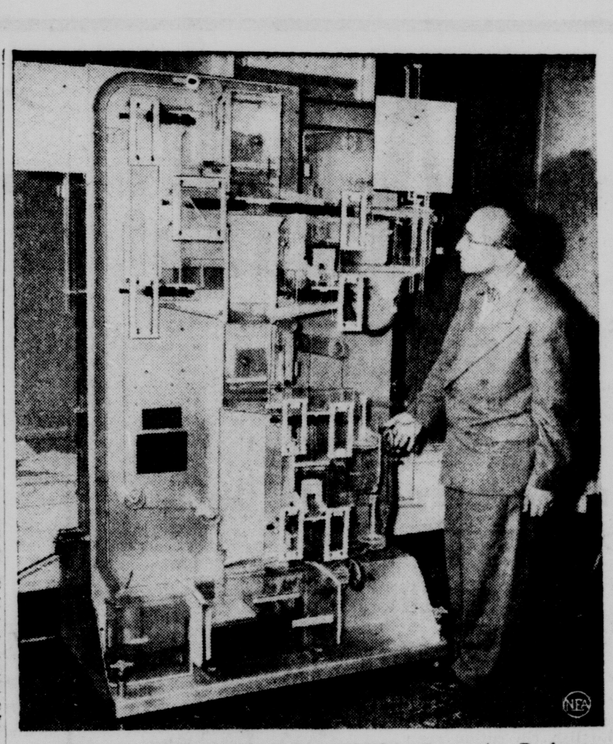

Another Iran??

On the surface business is as usual in Caracas, Venezuela, capital of the most prosperous nation of its size in the world today. But beneath the surface political unrest and conspiracy are swiftly approaching a crisis which could plunge Venezuela into civil war.

Developments of the past two months, including bomb explosions, quickie strikes in key industries, and a dramatic circulation upsurge of underground newspapers, have put the three-man governing junta on the most precarious spot of its turbulent, three-year career.

Ever since a fascist-minded army clique overthrew Venezuela's liberal elected government, in November, 1948, the usurpers have been trying unsuccessfully to smash the well-organized underground movement established at that time by Accion Democratica, the ousted regime's political party.

Odds and Ends By News Staff

A. W. Klang has a favorite joke he tells on his wife.

It seems that a woman came to Sedalia for some kind of meeting and Mrs. Klang, in her gracious little manner as always, entertained the guest all day.

It was quite a day and the woman seemed very much impressed with Mrs. Klang's name—"I shall never forget your name" she kept repeating.

Finally the day was over, Mrs. Klang took the woman to the depot and waited as she got on the train. Then the woman turned, waved to her and in a sweet little voice said: "Goodbye Mrs. Ding."

It was just one of those cases when somebody tries to remember a name through association with something and the woman evidently had a street car in mind but she got the clang and the ding mixed up.—H. L.

It isn't that he is lazy, its just that there is no sense doing unnecessary things, thinks Chester Eding who is wondering how he is going to come out next spring after leaving the leaves on his lawn all winter.

The thing that happened was this. All the leaves came down, leaving a thick covering over the ground, and just about the time he was ready to get out and rake them along came a wind and blew them all away. That was a wonderful feeling—no leaves—no raking.

A few days later the leaves all blew back again and about that time it began to snow. Then the job changed. Instead of raking leaves he had to shovel snow and as he shoveled the snow he shoveled leaves, too. Now he has given up entirely the idea of raking the leaves.

He is going to see if his grass comes up in the spring and if it does his days of raking leaves are at an end. People argue that leaves kill the grass, he says, but the prettiest grass anywhere is out in the woods where the leaves fall and stay on all winter. He thinks that the idea of killing the grass was just started by the civic pride club somewhere so that people would tidy up their yards—but why bother about that in the winter, it is too cold for anybody to look at yards, anyway.

So, we will see what happens next spring—he may be planting grass seed—or he might have another motive for such a venture—no grass—no grass cutting next summer. The more people get civilized the sillier they get—they just figure out ways of making more work for themselves. No raking of leaves, no grass—thus no grass cutting—now that makes sense.—H. L.

India Imports Sugar

NEW DELHI — (AP) — India in 1950-51 imported 60,000 tons of sugar from the United Kingdom at a cost of $12,915,000 to supplement her own internal production of 1,100,000 tons, a food ministry spokesman said here.

He added the United Kingdom was able to fill India's entire needs because of the 20,000 tons of raw sugar supplied to London by the United States.

..THE GOOD OLD DAYS??

THEY'RE BETTER NOW . . . .

We have come a long way from the days of the kerosene lamp and the horse and buggy. In the span of a single lifetime the advances of science and industry have added more to man's well-being and comfort than all the developments of the previous century. A great share of this progress is due to electricity and the limitless advances it has contributed to the public health, welfare and comfort.

Electricity today is such an integral part of our daily living that it is difficult to remember that there was no such powerful, obedient servant anywhere just a few years ago. Today even better living is ahead for all of us through the increased use of low-cost electricity. The Missouri Public Service Company assures its customers that progress in its area has the backing of a plentiful supply of electricity.

By Kathleen Briggs

THE STORY: The visit of Courtney Benson, a business man, and Aaron Riggs, trustee of the Steinhart estate, to Black Firs, where Elizabeth Brownell is nursing Mrs. Lucien Steinhart, an invalid, brings an unexplained tension to the place. The family bickers and quarrels, and Elizabeth is drawn into a bridge game with others of the family.

• • •

X

THE bridge game was a miserable failure. Elizabeth played as well as Alistair, better than Lee, yet Aaron Riggs seemed sorry he had made the suggestion. Evidently he belonged to the expert school, bored by those whose play and methods of bidding were not up to his standards. After a few hands his attention wandered. His flinty eyes and chiseled features turned often to the door through which Lucia and Courtney Benson had gone for their stroll. Finally he went over to close it, muttering about the evening chill.

Just as the lawyer reached the door, Ollie bounced in. His expression was jubilant, his peevish mood of an hour before forgotten.

"Found a whole swarm!" he laughed excitedly.

Minutes later he disappeared again armed with net, lantern and several jars.

"Sometimes I envy Ollie's absorption in his hobbies," Riggs said lightly.

There was disparagement in his tone, as if he meant, "Ollie's a simple fool but he's my host and my business so I have to be nice to him."

Elizabeth knew then that she disliked Aaron Riggs and didn't trust him. She wondered why the Steinharts did.

"He's an unusual personality, isn't he?" she said.

"Unusual?" Alistair laughed. "Unk's a downright screwball, Brownie."

"It isn't screwball to have a hobby. Every doctor recommends it, especially as people get older. A hobby can be a life-saver."

She knew she sounded prosaic but some quality in their voices made her defend Ollie despite her inward agreement.

"Ollie's hobbies have been his profession, Miss Brownell," Riggs explained dryly. "Moths, stamps and fishing flies. He's never done a lick of real work."

"You've forgotten the papayas and cocoanuts," Alistair reminded.

Elizabeth refused to be drawn into a dissection of Ollie's character. "Undoubtedly he's one of the interesting people who liven up the world for such matter-of-fact characters as ourselves," she pointed out and added, "I bid four no-trump."

With what her hand contained it was an outrageous bid. Aaron Riggs knew it. He refused to respond to the Blackwood convention. She went down three doubled, giving the game to Lee and Alistair who ragged her unmercifully. After another fruitless rubber she excused herself for the evening. It was 10:30.

• • •

ELIZABETH'S room was separated from that of her patient by a bathroom, either door of which contained a long pier glass. By bracing the doors at certain angles, the young nurse could lie in bed yet see her patient by the dim night light. Any motion of Mrs. Steinhart could be seen and attended to instantly.

Though she shut her eyes and composed her body, sleep would not come. The occupants of Black Firs performed in her thoughts like jerky puppets manipulated by strings.

She had almost slipped over the edge of consciousness when there was a faint creaking sigh in the hall and she sat up abruptly. Her door was opening slowly, pushed by a hand unseen.

Automatically she reached for her robe and switched on the bedside lamp. Lucia was standing just inside her door, wearing a Nile green taffeta negligee so startling in effect that Elizabeth at once suspected it was a relic from one of her mother's more bizarre theatrical roles.

• • •

LUCIA crossed to the bed and stared down at Elizabeth. The eyes that had been narrowed in suspicion widened in disbelief when she noted the plain dark blue tailored robe and the freshly washed, faintly creamed face. Her voice was tinged with derision.

"I came to see if you knew where Courtney was but I see I've wasted my time," she explained.

"The last time I saw him he was with you going for a walk."

"A lot of privacy we had with Unk flitting around the woods with his lantern and butterfly net! We had to go clear to the dam to ditch him."

"The dam?"

"The mill race," Lucia said impatiently, "on White Water Creek."

"You came back together, didn't you?"

"No." Lucia actually looked uncomfortable. "He—well we had an argument and I left him. Hours ago."

"Isn't he in his room?"

As soon as the words left her lips, Elizabeth realized that they were impertinent. But apparently this escaped Lucia. She shrugged. "No. I went there first."

Elizabeth suddenly felt a hundred years older than this girl standing beside her bed. Were Lucia's motives always so transparent? Obviously she had had a quarrel with Courtney Benson which she now regretted. Probably she had spent the last hour making herself up for her big reconciliation scene and now the supporting player who was also to be the audience was missing.

"Why don't you go to bed. I'm sure he'll turn up safe and sound in the morning."

Lucia stared at her insolently. "Nursely advice but I don't think I'll take it. If you think I'm going to let the only attractive man I've met in months pull a disappearing act on me, you're mistaken!"

She flung herself out of the room without another word.

The leaders of the Pilgrims wanted to go ashore and found their colony on Massachusetts Bay.

COPR. 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

Many contested this decision, pointing out that this territory was not in their patent from the Virginia Company.

To quell this dissent, the Mayflower Compact was drawn up and signed. It organized the Pilgrims into a civil government, and all signers pledged loyalty to their tiny state.

NOW CONQUER CONSTIPATION
—When normal regularity is restored and maintained by the revolutionary medical discovery, Melcalose!
Now at last comes the astounding medical discovery doctors and constipation sufferers have vainly sought for years. A way to conquer constipation . . . establish regularity . . . maintain normal function—without the violent action of harsh drugs, chemicals or oils; without irritating, bloating effects often caused by messy seeds or "bulk" preparations.
Even chronic constipation sufferers of 20 to 30 years standing were restored to normal regularity in as little as 7 to 14 days with Melcalose.

Supplies What Nature Needs
Easy-to-take Melcalose Tablets dissolve into a mild, non-purging gel which mixes completely with contents of colon to produce light, soft, smooth, comfortable bowel movements that slip easily, rhythmically past the bowel wall.
When this rhythmic activity is restored and maintained, constipation ends. Very important, Melcalose Tablets are harmless to take, even over long periods of time. Get Melcalose Tablets from your CROWN DRUG STORE.

Unlike ordinary laxatives which often upset digestive tract, Melcalose Tablets have soothing colon-action; produce soft, comfortable bowel movements.

Tigers Hold Edge Over MMA In Game at Mexico Friday at 2

Colonels Have Lost 3-in-Row to S-C; Both In Top Shape

Smith-Cotton's injury free Tigers are scheduled to journey to Mexico Friday to meet their final Central Missouri Conference rival of the 1951 football season, Missouri Military Academy's Colonels. The game will be played on the MMA drill field with the opening kick-off slated for 2 p.m.

The Bengals hold a three-game victory streak over the Colonels. The MMA team scored their last triumph over the Sedalians in 1947 on a rain-soaked Mexico field, winning 6-0.

Both elevens are in top shape at the present, but the Tigers' Herb Ford, an end, is again suffering from a severe cold.

Smith-Cotton and the Colonels have battled five teams on each other's schedule this season, with the Tigers holding the advantage by record. Sedalia has won four of the games and lost one, while MMA has won two, tied one and lost two.

On seasons statistics, the Tigers hold the upper-hand. For an eight-game schedule, MMA has averaged 18 points a game while holding their foes to a 10.5 point average. The Tigers, for a seven-game schedule, have averaged slightly over 25 points per game, while limiting their opponents to an even ten.

Even In Weight

On the size side, which seldom means anything in a high school game, the teams are matched evenly in both the backfield and line. Both lines will weigh-in at 170 pounds, while the backfields are close to the 160 pound mark. Going farther on matching the teams, both have nine veteran lettermen from the 1950 units.

Wednesday afternoon Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow worked the Bengals on offense, running out of the single wing with all backs geting a shot at the tailback slit. The snow covered practice turf didn't slow the intensity of the drill, but backs found it more difficult to make a quick start.

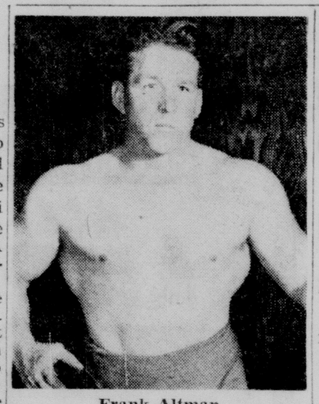

If the field at Mexico is snow-covered and if the Tigers drill Wednesday is any indication of their ability on such a field, they should prove to be a good "snow" eleven.

England Will Play

Fullback Bob England was in the line-up the entire drill. He was worked hard in preparation for his first game since being injured against Columbia on Oct. 19. Ford was also dressed-out but didn't see much action.

The Tigers' chief worries in the contest will be "Pigskin" Pete Connelly, a real speed merchant; MMA's T-quarterback Nick Grevan, who makes magic of hand-offs and Harry Devine, who has been responsible for two Colonel victories and a tie with his drop-kick extra points.

Starting for the Tigers will be an all-senior team. Ends, Herb Ford and Jim Dent; tackles, Don Allcorn and Gene Rathburn; guards, Stan Walch and Wilbur Bain; center, Skip Schulz; quarterback, Bill Arnold; halfbacks, Floyd Burton and Bobby Lane; and fullback, Bob England.

Frank Altman

Appearing In Main Event—Thursday night of the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion wrestling show, the first of a series to be held during the remainder of this year and through the winter and spring of 1952. Frank Altman, 230, heavyweight from Seattle, Wash., meets Johnnie Dobbs, 225, Omaha, Neb.

New Circuit Opens Season On Local Mat

Wrestling Schedule

Main Event

Frank Altman vs Johnnie Dobbs
Seattle, Wash. Omaha, Neb.
2 falls out of 3—90-minutes limit.

Semi-Final

Connie O'Connor vs Rose Marie Alvarez
Toledo, Ohio Madrid, Spain
2 falls out of 3—60-minutes limit.

Opening Event

Neil Warren vs George Lipold
Columbus, Ohio Se. Joseph, Mo.
One fall with a 30-minutes limit.

Time: 8:00 p.m. Thursday
Place: National Guard Armory
Referee: "Buddy" Siegel, Wichita, Kas.

Tonight will start the 1951-52 wrestling season in Sedalia sponsored by Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion and handled by a new promoter Gus Spartan of Kansas City. The promotor is bringing to the local ring a complete new circuit of wrestling talent, some of the best men in the business.

A well-rounded program has been arranged for the first show. Two bouts of men wrestlers will battle for honors while the semi-final will see two attractive young ladies clashing for a victory. Tonight will be the start of elimination of heavyweight talent preparing to get the best to meet Roy Dunn, Oklahoma, A & M wrestling champion who won for the United States in the 1936 Olympic games.

In the feature event, a two out of three fall 90-minute limit bout, Johnnie Dobbs, 225, Omaha, Neb., and Frank Altman, Seattle, Wash., will start eliminations for a contestant to meet Dunn in about three weeks. Both wrestlers have good records and should provide some excitement for the wrestling fans of Sedalia.

The semi-finals will see two young ladies in a match for the best two of three falls with a 60-minute limit. They are Connie O'Connor, 130, Toledo, Ohio, and Rose Marie Alvarez, 128, Madrid, Spain.

The opening event brings together Neil Warren, 225, Columbus, Ohio, and George Lipold, 220, St. Joseph, Mo. Their match will be one fall with a 30-minute limit.

Julius Boros Takes No.-So. Open Golf Lead

Three Under Par, Young Pro Has 2 Stroke Advantage

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 8—(AP)—Soft-spoken, stoop-shouldered Julius Boros, rated as one of the comers among golf's youngest professionals, nursed a two-stroke lead as the north and south open golf tournament swung into today's second round.

Boros, former Connecticut scratch amateur star, shot a steady 34-34—68 over the rugged 7,007-yard No. 2 championship course of the Pinehurst country club to lead Henry Picard, Cleveland, and Tommy Wright, Kingport, Tenn., by two strokes in yesterday's initial firing by the field of 110.

Sharing third place at 71, one under par, were these five: Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.; John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Tommy Bolt, Durham, N. C.; Francis (Bo) Wininger, amateur from Pleasantville, N. J., and Manuel De La Torre, Milwaukee.

Five more including Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., gunning for his third straight here, were bracketed at 72.

Old timers here got a bang out of Picard's 70. The former PGA champion, who will be 44 later this month, won this tournament in 1934.

Snead, still the choice to take down the top money of $1,500 recovered after an uncertain 38 to bag two birdies and seven pars for an incoming 34.

Britain's Ryder cup team, beaten here in the biennial matches with the U. S. team earlier in the week. Came up with three of the first day's 73 shooters—British open champion Max Faulkner, Harry Weetman and Dai Rees.

A mass raising of eyebrows resulted when Frank Stranahan, peerless Toledo amateur, came in with 82, 10 over par, after starting with four pars. The wind played havoc with some of his shots and all but blew him out of the tournament.

Eighteen holes today and tomorrow will be followed by the final round Sunday. Saturday is open to avoid football conflict. The field will be cut to 60 and ties after today's play.

VIP Gets Clipped

TRIPOLI—(AP)—It is costing more these days to be a VIP—very important person. On a bulletin board in a transient hostel of Wheelus Air Force Field, Tripoli, appears this sign:

"A service charge of 50 cents per day is charged to transient officers and civilians, other than VIP's. The VIP charge is $1 per day.

Sporting Notes About Sedalia

A well-known Sedalia sportsman returned from a deer hunt in Taney county empty-handed, but it was not because he had to. John S. Harvey, who was the subject of an article that appeared in this column last week, is the hunter.

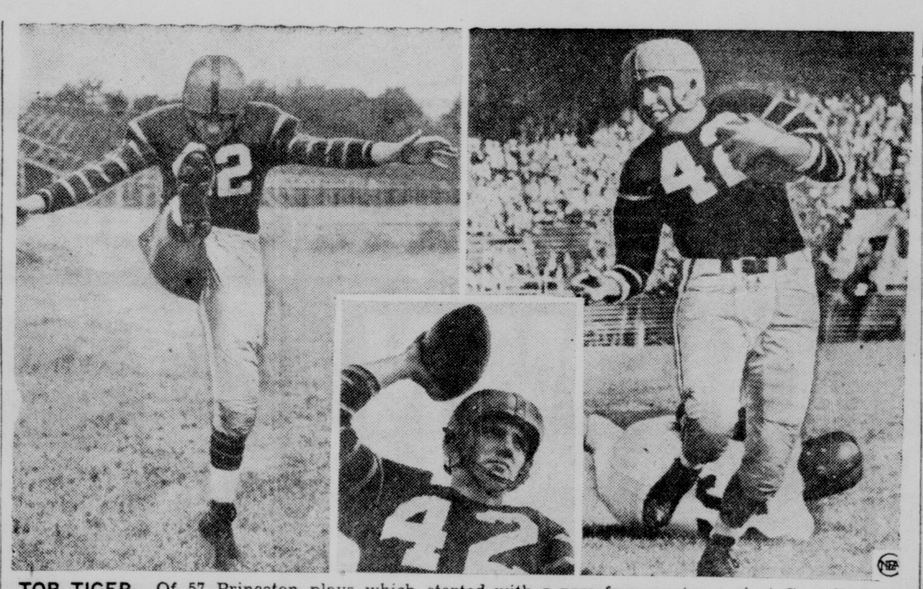

Harvey says he saw several does and fawns, but no large bucks. With the any deer season in effect, he easily could have shot one of the does or fawns, but he was against any such action.

Harvey pointed out that the Taney county land owners association had posted 50,000 acres of land, but still hunting was done in other sections. Of the deer killed in that area, the majority were does and fawns. Many of the does killed were producing types; some of the fawns bagged weighed as little as 21 pounds.

Killing the fat, non-producing does seems to be all right, but killing the producing does could deplete the deer herd beyond any quick possible recovery. Now killing fawns is a different subject, and the farmers in Taney county were definitely against that—but still many hunters were "trigger-happy" and fired at anything that came into their sights. Anyway, Harvey, in most books, displayed the sign of a true sportsman in not killing a doe or fawn, which he no-doubt could have since his past record of five kills is a good indication of his marksmanship.

Claude V. Gardner of Beaman is the second hunter in the Sedalia area to report success during the 1951 deer season of Missouri. He made his kill Monday, getting a 250 pound buck.

Gardner, employed by the Missouri Pacific, is now working near Washington, Mo.

TOP TIGER- Of 57 Princeton plays which started with a pass from center against Cornell, Dick Kazmaier handled the ball 43 times, running himself, passing, handing off or punting once. Tailback Kazmaier completed 15 of 17 passes for 236 yards and three touchdowns, scored twice himself. The 20-year-old Maumee, O., senior threads his way through would-be tacklers. (NEA)

Two of Biggest Games This Week---

Notre Dame at Michigan State; Stanford, So. Cal. Vie for West's Rose Bowl Bid

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—(AP)—Two of the season's biggest games are scheduled for this week-end with Notre Dame the guest of Michigan State while Southern California and Stanford tangle on the west coast for the coast conference Rose Bowl honors.

Here's how the crystal ball says the games, plus others on Saturday's schedule will turn out:

Nod to Mich. State

Michigan State over Notre Dame: The Spartans have had a week's rest to get set and allow their injuries to heal although Notre Dame got little more than a scrimmage in defeating Navy last Saturday. It should be a scoring thriller similar to the 36-33 Michigan State victory of a year ago.

Picks So. Cal.

Southern California over Stanford: Any team with Pat Cannamela in its lineup must be favored.

Illinois over Iowa: An Iowa victory over Illinois is as rare as a tax reduction — and taxes are not being reduced in this era.

Tennessee over Washington and Lee: The Generals are defending Southern conference champs but their past history won't do them any good against the current Vols.

Maryland over Navy: Dick and Ed Modzelewski, the Mighty Moe and Little Moe of the Maryland team shouldn't have any problems with the Middies.

Princeton over Harvard: The first of the year's big three games. But the only "big" thing about this will be the Princeton's score.

Georgia Tech over Virginia Military: The perfect spot for an upset. In case you have forgotten, the Virginia cadets did it last year by 14 to 13.

Wisconsin to Win

Wisconsin over Pennsylvania: California bounced Penn, 35 to 0, and the proud Badgers will be out to do it by even a greater score if possible.

Texas over Baylor: If Baylor wins this one you can be sure it was engineered by Larry Isbell. Texas has the sounder team.

Michigan over Cornell: Fullback Don Peterson has put the Wolverine attack on the right track again.

Kentucky over Tulane: Now that Babe Parilli's passing has been straightened out, the Kentuckians are on a par with anybody.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

Friday Night

Hardin-Simmons over Texas Western, Miami over Chattanooga.

Saturday

EAST: Army over The Citadel, Boston University over Oregon, Bucknell over Colgate, Dartmouth over Columbia, Holy Cross over Marquette, Ohio State over Pittsburgh, Penn State over Syracuse, Princeton over Harvard, Rutgers over Brown, Temple over New York University, Villanova over Detroit.

MIDDLE WEST: Cincinnati over Ohio University, Iowa State over Nebraska, Indiana over Minnesota, Kansas over Loyola of Los Angeles, Northwestern over Purdue, Oklahoma over Missouri, Drake over Wichita, Tulsa over Kansas State.

SOUTH: Alabama over Mississippi Southern, Clemson over Boston College, Duke over Wake Forest, Georgia over Florida, Houston over Louisville, Louisiana State over Vanderbilt, Mississippi State over Memphis State, Mississippi over Auburn, South Carolina over West Virginia, Virginia over North Carolina, William and Mary over Virginia Tech.

SOUTHEAST: Rice over Arkansas, Texas A. and M. over Southern Methodist, West Texas State over New Mexico A. and M.

FAR WEST: California over Washington, Colorado over Utah, Tempe State over Arizona, UCLA over Oregon State, Utah State over Brigham Young, Washington State over Idaho State, Wyoming over New Mexico.

Berra Picked Most Valuable In American League for '51

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)— Yogi Berra, squat New York Yankee catcher, today was voted most valuable player in the American league for 1951 in an astonishing finish to a wide open race.

Tabulation of votes from the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America showed Berra, Ned Garver of St. Louis and Allie Reynolds of the Yanks each had six first place ballots.

The result was sure to start tongues wagging around the circuit for Berra slumped badly in September and finished with a .294 batting average. The 26-year old Berra led the Yankees in runs batted in with 88 and hit 27 home runs.

Berra won on points with a total of 184 on the basis of 14 for a first place vote, nine for second and so on down to one for tenth.

Garver, baby-faced 20-game winner for the last place Brownies, was a close-up second with 157 points and Reynolds, who threw two no-hitters for the world champions, was third with 125 points.

Voting was distributed among 33 players with another 15 receiving honorable mention in the closest finish in years.

With Berra in the American and Brooklyn's Roy Campanella in the National this was the first year two catchers were named most valuable. In fact you have to go back to the league awards in 1924 to find two winners who played the same position — Dazzy Vance, Brooklyn pitcher and Walter Johnson, Washington fireballer.

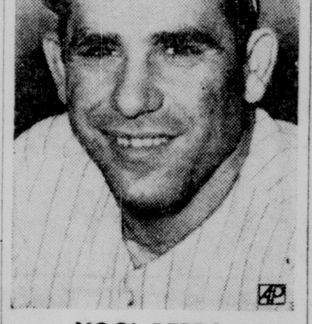

No less than eight men drew first place votes in this split ticket election. Phil Rizzuto of the Yankees, the 1950 winner, drew one first but finished 11th. So did Yankie Eddie Lopat who finished twelfth.

Berra won on the strength of five seconds, four fourths, a fifth, two sixths, a seventh, an eighth and two ninths. He was mentioned on 22 ballots, more than any other player.

Garver (20-12) pitched the most complete games, 24, and accounted for about 40 per cent of the St. Louis Browns total victories.

Reynolds' second no-hitter clinched at least a tie for the Yankees in the last week of the season. Both Lopat and Vic Raschi topped him in wins but his 17-8 record included seven shutouts.

Orestes Minoso, Chicago, was fourth with 120 points; Bobby Feller, Cleveland, fifth, 118; Ferris Fain, Philadelphia, sixth, 103; Ellis Kinder, Boston, seventh, 66; Vic Raschi, New York, eighth, 64; Gil McDougald, New York, ninth, 63 and Bobby Avila, Cleveland, tenth with 49.

YOGI BERRA

YOGI BERRA — New York Yankee catcher, voted most valuable player in the American league for 1951. He is a native of St. Louis and was a nominee for the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame when it was established at the Mo. State Fair here in August.

Kid Gavilan Belts Janiro, Gets TKO

DETROIT, Nov. 8—(AP)—The "Keed" from Cuba, welterweight champion Kid Gavilan, traded his famed bolo punch for left hooks here last night, and belted Tony Janiro back down into the middleweight ranks.

Gavilan floored the Youngstown veteran three times in the fourth round of their 10-round non-title bout, and was awarded a technical knockout. It promised him a January date with England's Randy Turpin, one-time conqueror of Sugar Ray Robinson.

Sooners Lead Big 7 Offense And Defense

Kansas Ranks 2nd In Offense, I-State Defense Runner-up

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 8—(AP)—The Oklahoma Sooners stand out as kingpins of Big Seven conference football no matter who has the ball.

Statistics released by the Big Seven news bureau show the Oklahomans as team leader in both offense and defense.

The Sooners have picked up an average of 398 yards rushing and passing in six games. They have held opponents to a 218 yard average.

Closest competitor in the rushing department is Kansas with 1606 yards in seven games. The Jayhawks also rate second in total offense with 2437 yards. Colorado has a team offense of 2248 yards in seven games.

Big 7 Review

Defensively, Iowa State rates second to Oklahoma, having limited seven opponents to a 247 yard average rushing and passing.

Oklahoma and Kansas have the best chances of improving their team averages in game this week.

The Sooners will be after their fourth Big Seven victory against no losses in a game with Missouri at Columbia Saturday. Kansas (3-2), still in the running for a share of second place, takes on Loyola of Los Angeles at Lawrence, Kas.

Nebraska and Iowa State will play at Ames, Iowa. Winless Kansas State plays Tulsa at Tulsa and Colorado entertains Utah at Boulder.

Weather conditions have hampered several conference teams this week.

Snow-covered field kept the Missouri squad indoors. Assistant coaches directed the team today. Head coach Don Faurot is in Kirksville, Mo., where his mother died yesterday.

The Colorado Buffaloes were able to practice outdoors for the first time yesterday. They concentrated on pass defense.

Coach Abe Stuber decided it was too cold for his Iowa State Cyclones to scrimmage and had them work against dummies.

The two Kansas teams went through rough workouts. End Bill Schaake, captain of the Kansas Jayhawks, had a front tooth broken and suffered a cut lip but is expected to be ready for play Saturday. Sophomore guard Dean Peck of Kansas State suffered a sprained knee and may miss the Tulsa trip.

Nebraska coach Bill Glassford shifted seven men from the varsity to the "B" team, saying "we're taking our 36 best men to Iowa State Saturday."

The Oklahoma Sooners, reported in top physical shape, planned one more workout today before leaving for Missouri Friday noon.

Don Newcombe Visits Draft Board Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers may know whether big Don Newcombe will be around next year to aid in their bid for the National league pennant.

The ace right handed pitcher, who won 20 games last season, was ordered to report today to Fort Jay to undergo further tests to determine his physical fitness for military service.

Newcombe underwent a preliminary pre-induction physical at selective service headquarters in Newark yesterday after flying in from New Orleans where he left Roy Campanella's barnstorming All-Stars.

When asked whether his preference would be the Marines or the Army, the six-foot four, 240-pound Negro hurler replied:

"Doesn't make any difference to me. It's just one of those things. When you gotta go, you gotta go."

Wisconsin Threatens to Run Off With Grid Defensive Titles

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—Wisconsin may not win the Big Ten championship, but the Badgers are threatening to run away from the country in the race for the top defensive team of the year.

After holding Indiana to 91 yards on the ground and nothing through the air last week, Wisconsin now boasts of a yard-yielding per-game average of 149.8, according to figures released today by the National Collegiate Ateletic Bureua.

On the ground, San Francisco heads the list by virtue of the Dons' tossing Santa Clara for a net loss of 18 yards last week. That gave 'Frisco an average of 37.4 given up overland. Wisconsin is second in that department with 77, followed by Notre Dame with 80.

Washington and Lee is at the top of the heap in pass defense for the third straight week, giving up 51 yards per game and holding the enemy to a 34.1 average for completions.

Hardin-Simmons is second with 68.6 yards-per-game and 37.4 completions, while Denver is third with 69.3 and 41.0.

Rocky Marciano Gets Threats On His Life

BROCKTON, Mass., Nov. 8—(AP)—Police have been warned that an attempt may be made on the life of boxer Rocky Marciano at a homecoming reception for him Saturday.

Two postcards which police said appeared to be the work of a crank were received, one by police and the other by a newspaper.

Police Chief D. Edward Sullivan said he will assign a big detail to protect the fighter at a public reception in honor of his recent knockout victory over former heavyweight champion Joe Louis.

The visit will be Marciano's first appearance here since he defeated Louis in Madison Square Garden Oct. 26.

The canal built in 1797 and connecting Lakes Superior and Huron, was destroyed by American forces during the War of 1812.

Navy Staging War Games In Atlantic

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 8—The Navy is staging its most extensive war games in the Atlantic ocean since World War II.

The mock battle being waged off Florida's coast was disclosed Wednesday by Rear Adm. Osborne B. Hardison, USN, commander of fleet air, Jacksonville.

He also is chief of the "black" air forces defending the eastern seaboard against massive striking powers of the enemy "blue" fleet.

A successful mock atom-bomb attack, with everything but the bomb, was staged on the naval air station here Monday night, Hardison said.

Interceptor planes sped out to head off the intruder but the lone attacker broke through a fighter screen and reached the target.

In the "sky survey" being made at the California Institute of Technology, adjoining sections of sky are captured on 14x14-inch photographic plates.

126 Nominees For All Star Team of A. P.

There Will Be More Before Season Ends And Team Is Chosen

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—The 44 places on the first two All-America teams have drawn 126 nominations to date—and there will be more before the season ends.

The Associated Press National Board of Selectors for the All-America added 48 names to the eligibles for the two offensive and defensive teams today.

Because the selectors want to take the entire season's play into consideration before naming the teams, the All-America will not be announced until after the big games of Dec. 1.

Here are some of the outstanding players whose names were added today to the eligible list:

Jarrell Price, Texas Tech defensive tackle; Tom Catlin, Oklahoma offensive center; Don Steinbrunner, Washington State offensife ner, Washington State offensive back; Ed (Mighty Mo) Modelewski, Maryland offensive fullback; John Michaels, Tennessee offensive guard; Bert Rechichar, Tennessee defensive back; Don Coleman, Michigan State offensive tackle; Vince Pisano, Michigan State offensive back; Bob Toneff, Notre Dame defensive tackle; and Billy Barnett, Notre Dame offensive back.

Others nominated by the board were:

Offensive ends—Tom McCann, Holy Cross; Gordon Cooper, Denver; George Wooden, Oklahoma A. and M., Nela Petree, Virginia Military Institute; Bob Thomas, Washington and Lee; Hal Faverty, Wisconsin (also defensive).

Offensive tackles — Bradford Glass, Princeton; Bob Macko, Dartmouth; John Feltch, Holy Cross, Oliver Spencer, Kansas; Ken Casner, Baylor; Harley Sewell, Texas; Key Vaughan, Tulsa; Tom Johnson, Michigan (also defensive).

Offensive guards — Ed Ducna, Auburn; George Kenard, Kansas.

Offensive Center—High Meyer, Texas A. and M.; Tom Cosgrave, Maryland; Doug Mosley, Kentucky.

Offensive backs — Dick Heatly, Oklahoma; Jack Kelly, Detroit; Joe Bevere, Drake; Paul Giel, Minnesota.

Defensive end—Leo Sugar, Purdue.

Defensive tackle — Sam Duca, Arizona State (Tempe).

Defensive backs—Frank Hauff, Navy; George Bassler, Pennsylvania; Semler Pederson, Wyoming; John Konek, Kansas (also offensive); Veryl Switzer, Kansas State; Larry Grigg, Oklahoma; Dick Sprague, Washington; Yale Larry, Texas A. and M.; Billy Burkhalter, Rice; Joe Petruzzo, Maryland; Claudde Hipps, Georgia.

Girl Endangers Life To Save 3 Dollies

ARLINGTON, Mass., Nov. 8—(AP)—The pity is that dolls have no way of showing their love for the litle girls that own them.

Five-year-old Carol Alexander endangered her life yesterday to resuce three dolls from her burning home.

When Carol saw smoke rolling into her room, she ran and told her brother, Kenney, 9, and his friend, Bunny Davidson, 12. The three went next door where Carol's mother was visiting.

Then when nobody was looking, Carol ran back into the house to save her three dolls from the flames.

Two Christmas 'Gifts' Found to Be Narcotics

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8—(AP)—Two packages in gay Christmas wrappings were seized yesterday by federal narcotics agents who said they contained 35 ounces of heroin.

Two men, Louis Salerno, 21, and Guido Penois, 21, were arrested. The agents said they believed the narcotics were sent here by a mafia mob in New York.

Hold-up Men Take Gal's Advice; 'Go Earn Your Money'

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Nov. 8—(AP)—Mrs. Anthony Krisuk's advice to holdup men is:

"Get out and earn your money the hard way. The way I do."

A holdup man took that advice last night and left Mrs. Krisuk's grocery store empty-handed after he had demanded: "Hand over all the money in the cash register."

College Presidents From Iowa

IOWA CITY, Iowa—(AP)—M. S. Lardizabal is the 29th living graduate of the State University of Iowa to become a college president.

He is president of Tagudin Junior College in the Philippines.

Not So Easy

SINGAPORE—(AP)—More than 4,000 Singapore Chinese who went to Communist China now are seeking to return here.

They've applied for re-entry visas but they'll likely have a long wait. It was estimated that investigation of applications would require several months.

Strict measures are now being enforced to prevent illegal entry and exit. Persons desiring to leave must show good cause before any exit permit is granted.

Village Raid

JAKARTA, Indonesia — (AP) — Three hundred houses were burned and 750 tons of rice were destroyed by an armed band of 500 men after a raid on the village of Tuga, on west Java's north coast. Two villagers were killed by the raiders.

New Headquarters

VANCOUVER, B. C. — (AP) — Dedication of completely remodeled headquarters of the British Columbia credit unions here was accompanied by a report that B. C. credit unions now have more than 55,000 members in 230 groups throughout the province.

Lions Learn Of Modern Jet Aircraft

Thomas L. Yount, With McDonald Aircraft, Is Speaker

"Modern Aircraft" was the subject of a talk given Wednesday noon at Bothwell hotel at the meeting of the Lions club by Thomas L. Yount, chief electonic engineer of the McDonald Aircraft, St. Louis.

Mr. Yount stated that the McDonald Aircraft employed 9,000 employes and they desinged a number of experimential planes for military use. He showed two films, one of "Little Henry" a ram jet helicopter, which was developed for lightness, size and performance, and the second on the parasite jet fighter which hooks on to the bomber, goes out to give fighter protection to the bomber, then returns and hooks back on to the mother plane.

The names of the various aircraft come from a list of suggestions which are then voted on by the employes, he said.

Mr. Yount made remarks about the jet aircraft stating that it was faster and with more intricate control, but more of a job to maneuver than conventional type planes.

Because of Thanksgiving falling on Thursday, Nov. 22, there will be a joint meeting between the Lions and Kiwanis that week on Wednesday.

The board of directors of the Lions club will meet Thursday night at Bothwell hotel at 7:30.

The meeting was presided over by Harold Seaberg and Ken Fox, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Guests at the meeting were Paul F. Hausam, David Routszong, Don L. King, Wichita, Kas., and C. H. Bryant, Clarksville, Ark.

Party at Bethel School by Teacher

A Hallowe'en party was given at the Bethel school, eight miles southwest of La Monte, Wednesday night by the teacher, Miss Eileene Kendrick for her students and invited guests. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hall, Melvin and Rhea, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wasson, Dale and Sheryl, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mahn, Ronald Scott and Arthea, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Embree, John, Billy Joe and Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Johnson and Carol Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Ottis O. Ginn and Marcia, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Page, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Morton and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kendrick.

A program was presented by the students followed by refreshments.

First Baptist YWA Meets Tuesday Eve

The YWA of the First Baptist church met at the home of Miss Bonnie Brumback and Miss Connie Putnam, 219 West Fifth, Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m., with seven members and one visitor present.

The business meeting was held with a short program fololwing, after which a social hour was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 20, 6:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. O. A. Potter, 1003 East Sixth, at which time a review will be given on "Inca Gold." All girls from 16 to 25 are invited to attend.

Two Apostles To Visit Local Church Thursday

Apostles Williams and Heild, along with State Missionary Claire Weldon and Harry Simmons, will be at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Ninth and Montgomery at 8 p. m. Thursday. Groups from Marshall and Knob Noster also will be there.

BULL BY THE YARD—A bull which escaped from a packing house pen and roamed St. Louis streets for seven hours is cornered momentarily in the backyard of a home. An unidentified stock handler, armed with a plank and a matador's courage, tries to keep the animal in check as a patrolman with drawn revolver looks on, at right. Shortly after the picture was taken, the bull plunged through the fence and was killed by police bullets

Fake Major 'Fleeces' Sikeston Merchants

SIKESTON, Mo., Nov. 8—(AP)—A dapper individual wearing the uniform of an Air Force major has flown to greener fields after about $1,000 in worthless checks he left with local merchants bounced.

The smooth talking "officer" told merchants his name was Major John Padgett, that he was located at Maxwell Field Air Base in Alabama and even gave his serial number as A9223346. The merchants readily cashed his checks on a Jackson, Miss., bank and gave him the change on small purchases to extent, police say, of "around $1,000."

Potent New Blood Medicine May Partially Replace Plasma

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(AP)—A potent new blood medicine that may replace plasma in some uses was reported today to the National Academy of Sciences.

It comes from part of human blood. It is rich in chemicals that are especially valuable in fighting shock or treating burns.

An amazing new machine makes this medicine automatically out of whole blood. It actually makes and packages half dozen or more medicines while a pint of blood is flowing into it from a blood donor's veins.

These new developments in blood were announced by Dr. Edwin J. Cohn, noted Harvard university blood chemist, and Drs. James L. Tullis, Douglas M. Surgenor, William H. Batchelor and Maurice D'hont.

The new medicine is called S. P. P. S.—stable plasma protein solution.

The scientists said it is expected to replace plasma and serum albumin, an anti-shock medicine now obtained from blood, as an emergency medicine or for stockpiling against the threat of war wounds and atomic-bomb casualties.

The S. P.P. S. has more of certain normal blood proteins than serum albumin, they said. Also, it can be preserved just as long.

A secret of producing it is new chemical methods, using certain metals and sugars. The new methods break blood into its parts but keep them in their normal state.

The new machine does the whole job. It is portable, so it can be taken to any location in emergency for persons to donate blood. From it come the various blood medicines that can be preserved so that victims of sickness or injury can be given any or all of the blood medicines they need.

TO HEAD MARINES — Lt.-Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., above, will become the new commandant of the Marine Corps on Jan. 1, 1952, succeeding Gen. Clifton B. Cates, whose four-year term expires on that date. Shepherd is now commanding general of Fleet Marine Force, Pacific.

When the "sky survey" is finished at the California Institute of Technology, three-fourths of the entire sky will have been recorded.

Personal
To Women With Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Mrs. Anderson Heads County Club Council

Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, a member of the High Point Extension club, was recently elected president of the Pettis County Extension Club council for a two-year term.

Her election came at the annual meeting when the officers were chosen and units for the year's work in the various clubs were selected.

Mrs. Howard Turner of the Maplewood club was elected vice-president, also for a two-year term. The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. C. Wissman of Flat Creek club, was elected last year and has another year in her office.

Units of work to be stressed during the coming year include: Home management, "Windows and Their Treatment"; foods, "Busy Day Meals"; clothing, "Care of the Sewing Machine"; horticulture, "Gardening."

These will be the topics for many programs in the clubs over the county during the year, according to Miss Lillian Watkins, home agent, who works with the club members.

Doctors Remove Pin From Lung Of Tiny Filipino

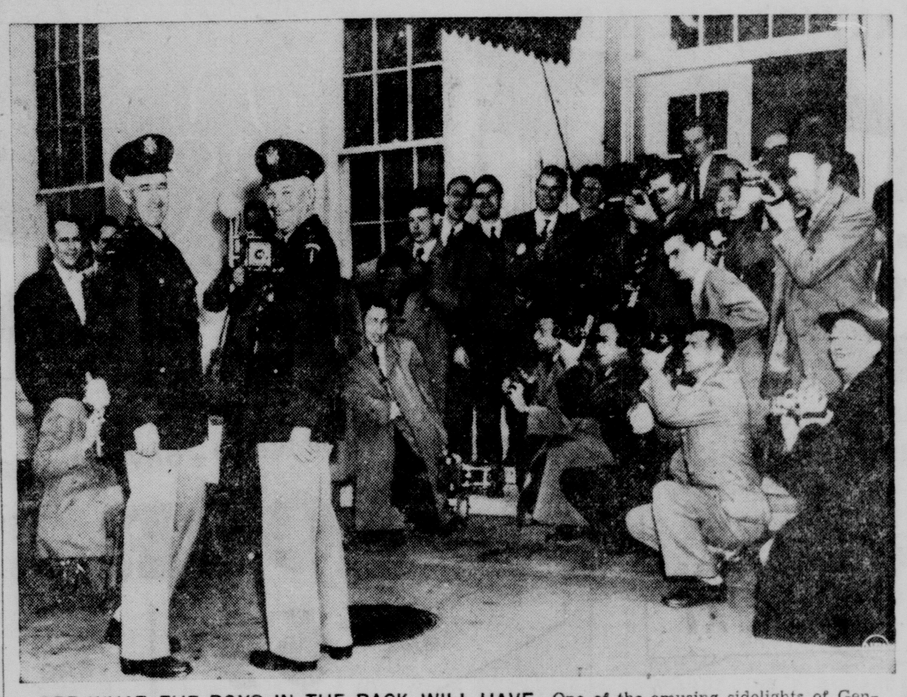

CHICAGO, Nov. 8—(AP)—Doctors say they successfully removed a pin from the lung of a baby girl flown here from Manila for special surgery.

The 11-month old infant, Elvira Difuntorum, arrived with a doctor and nurse in the midst of a snowstorm. A bronchoscope with a magnet attachment was inserted into her lung and 59 seconds later the intrument was withdrawn with the pin clamped fast to the magnet.

Another pin, one of the nine fed to her by her three-year-old brother, passed from her body the natural way as had seven others before she was brought here.

Her condition was described as "excellent."

The U. S. trip was financed by donations from Manila citizens who rallied to help the daughter of a $2-a-day book salesman.

SEE WHAT THE BOYS IN THE BACK WILL HAVE—One of the amusing sidelights of General Eisenhower's recent visit to the White House produced the unusual picture above. Generals Dwight Eisenhower and Omar Bradley obeyed the command of Acme photographer Charles Corte to "about face" so he could get a shot. Meanwhile the whole battery of cameramen on the White House steps had to wait while their enterprising colleague got his "exclusive."

Mother Kills Baby To Get a Divorce, She Tells a Jury

CHICAGO, Nov. 8—(AP)—A 24-year old mother was charged with murder here after she told a coroner's jury she strangled her baby daughter because she wanted a divorce.

Mrs. Donna Mae Phillips testified at the inquest into the death of 15-month old Betty Mae Phillips she had repeatedly asked her husband, Elmer, for a divorce and that he had refused her.

"Did you think that by killing your baby you would get your freedom?" deputy coroner George Mrazek asked the mother.

"I thought I would—some time," she replied.

Phillips, a factory worker, said his wife had asked him for a divorce several times. He said she had wanted to go out nights to dances, but couldn't because of the child.

Chicken Capri Is Different

FRIED CHICKEN TARRAGON is served with boiled barley and soft drinks.

By Gaynor Maddox
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Everyone is eating a lot of chicken these days because it is certainly cheaper than meat. Of course, people like it, too, and it's also first class protein.

But some different ways of cooking it, the use of an ingredient out of the ordinary, makes cooking news. That's why these two recipes, using carbonated beverage to turn a flavor trick with your fried chicken, may be good news for you and the family.

Fried Chicken a la Capri
(Serves four to six)

One frying chicken (2 to 3 lbs.) 2 tablespoons butter, salt, pepper, 2 small bottles lemon-lime carbonated beverage, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 small onion sliced.

Disjoint chicken into frying-size pieces. Melt butter in large skillet. Put in chicken and cook over high heat about 10 minutes, turning pieces frequently until brown on all sides. Sprinkle with salt and pepper; pour over carbonated beverage and vinegar; cover with sliced onion. Reduce heat to low. Cover skillet, and allow the chicken to simmer until tender — about 20 to 30 minutes.

Fried Chicken Tarragon

Omit onion from the above recipe. Combine vinegar with one bottle of the carbonated beverage and add 2 tablespoons dried tarragon leaves; allow to steep for about 30 minutes, then proceed as for Chicken a la Capri, adding tarragon leaf mixture along with the second bottle of beverage.

Boiled Barley (Serves 4-6)

Two quarts boiling water, one tablespoon salt, 1 cup pearl barley.

Add salt and barley to boiling water. Boil about 30 minutes, or until water is mostly absorbed if desired. Serve with friend chicken.

(Note: Finished chicken may be transferred to baking tin and kept warm in oven, while cooked barley is put in skillet and stirred to coat it with remaining juices from fried chicken.)

MENU

BREAKFAST: Tomato juice with lemon slice, soft-cooked eggs, raisin toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee or milk.

LUNCHEON: Cream of mushroom soup, crackers, ham on rye sandwiches, cole slaw, apple sauce, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Fried chicken a la Capri, steamed rice, frozen peas with parsley, lettuce and watercress salad, French dressing, crisp rolls or French bread, butter or fortified margarine, pumpkin pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

Women Go to Football Games For Everything But Football

So far as I know, no researcher has ever taken the trouble to conduct a poll on why women go to football games.

If one ever does he'll probably discover that a lot of the women fall into the following categories:

"Because if Jim is going to spend the afternoon at a football stadium you can bet your bottom dollar I'm not going to stay at home baby sitting."

"Because somebody usually invites you in for a party either before or after the game — and they're so much fun."

"Because what else is there to do on a Saturday afternoon?"

"Because it's fun to see the crowd."

"Because it makes you feel young to get in a yelling, pushing football crowd. Brings back memories of your college days."

"When First We Practice To Deceive .. ."

"Because when we were dating I always pretendded to be crazy about sports and I can't very well admit now that I'd rather spend an afternoon shopping that watching a football game."

"Because I try to be companionable with my husband and he's crazy about football."

"Because admitting you don't really care who wins Saturday's game is something you just couldn't do. What would your friends think?"

Men go to football games because they like football. But it's a pretty safe bet that more women go for other reasons than because they find the game fascinating.

TIPTON

Turkey Shoot Draws Crowd To Tipton Club

By Mrs. Thomas W. Miller

TIPTON—Four hams, five turkeys, a slab of bacon and seven chickens went to the best marksmen Sunday afternoon at the shoot held by the Farmers and Sportsmens club at their cabin south of town.

Although the day was very cold and cloudy there was a fair turnout and shooting was in progress all through the afternoon.

Claud Howard, chairman of the arrangements, reports the sum of $134.15 taken in and of this amount something like $50 will be clear.

Winning the turkeys were Buck Jones, Lee Darby, Marvin Sanders, Prunes Schmidt and Charlie Schreck. Hams went to Claud Howard, who won two; Marvin Saunders and Monte Brant.

There was a lady among the contestants, Mrs. C. F. Luebbert, who took home one of the chickens. Others winning these birds were the Rev. Father B. Harder, Prunes Schmidt, Buck Jones, Andy Hainen, Barney Newkirk, Roy Dick. A Versailles man, Mr. Dalton, won the bacon.

In charge of the lunch stand were Fred Wirths and Sylvester Wolf, members of the food committee.

David, the three and a half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kempf, is improving well from a mild form of polio and is able to be up and walk about.

He was treated for a week at the Laughlin Osteopathic hospital in Kirksville.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hardy came home Friday after an absence of five weeks during which time Mr. Hardy was a patient in St. Luke's hospital in Kansas City. He is much improved. They came to Tipton through Columbia where they had been making the acquaintance of their new granddaughter, Jennifer Ross, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Goodman.

After staying nine days in the Charles E. Still Osteopathic hospital in Jefferson City, where she underwent a major operation, Mrs. Wilbur Knipp was returned home Friday. Mrs. Knipp is convalescing nicely and is able to be up a part of the time.

Miss Bernadotte Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Hartman, a patient for over two months at the Laughlin Osteopathic hospital, Kirksville, continues to show marked improvement.

Members of the council of administration of the Missouri Bankers association will meet in Columbia Wednesday at the Tiger hotel. O. J. Stratman, executive vice-president of the Tipton Farmers Bank, will attend as secretary of group five of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hainen and children, Billy and Mary, motored to Kansas City Saturday, spending that night at Grandview where they were guests of their aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Schmidt, and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wright.

Alfred W. Lloyd, Moniteau county superintendent of schools, and Ira E. Grubb, Tipton superintendent of schools, are attending the Missouri State Teachers' association convention in St. Louis as delegates from Moniteau county.

A turkey dinner is being served this Thursday evening at Herman's Coffee Shop for members of the 40 & 8. Membership is from the Jefferson City Post No. 1292 including members from Central Missouri cities on toward St. Louis. Belonging to the organization from Tipton is E. R. Proctor. Following the banquet, a business session will be held at the city hall.

Spending Sunday as house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alf Finley were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stark, George Jordon and his mother, Mrs. A. W. Jordon, and Mrs. Myrtle Pulliam, all of Jefferson City.

Kenneth Brant, Y 2/c, spent a week-end visit here in the home of his mother, Mrs. Louise Brant. He is in the navy personnel offices in Kansas City. He and Mrs. Brant will spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Brant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Mans, in Wichita.

United Christian Youth Movement Program Given

By Mrs. Roy Meyer

SWEET SPRINGS — A. Swinehart of Liberty presented the new United Christian Youth movement program to the people of this community Sunday night, Nov. 4. Sunday, Nov. 11, at 6 p.m., he will speak at the Christian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schmidle of Cape Girardeau, Mrs. Elizabeth Littlejohn of Higginsville and Mrs. Edgar McKinney attended the funeral of Mrs. Maude Shockley Tuttle, wife of Dr. Floyd Tuttle of Blue Springs, recently.

The local Lutheran church will be host to the West Missouri Pastoral conference Tuesday through Thursday. Approximately 75 ministers will attend. The visiting pastors will be housed by members of the congregation and meals will be served in the church basement.

Mrs. Roy Hall entertained a group of children Friday afternoon, Oct. 26, in honor of her daughter, Susan's birthday. Mrs. Hall was assisted by Mrs. Robert Volrath and Mrs. Wilfred Linder. Guests were: Robert Evans, Cynthia Farmer, Joyce Elaine Meyer, pell, Sarah Nightwine, Virginia Baker, Marilyn March, Bobby Linder, John and Mike Tolson and Johnny Elwell. Johnny Nichols and Glenn Allen Soloman were unable to attend.

Mrs. Marie Huff, home economics teacher in the local high school, accompanied six FHA girls to Slater Oct. 28. They attended a sub-district meeting. They were: Phyllis Perkins, Betty Ann Chappell, Sarah Nightwine, Virginia Garrett, Patricia Rothrock and Thelma Trent.

Mrs. Herbert Schelp of Emma and Mrs. Marie Huff accompanied 25 girls of the home economics department to Kansas City, Oct. 18. They attended the American Royal.

Newton Brill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Brill, Sr., has recently been promoted to the rank of sergeant.

A group of approximately 20 members of the Sweet Springs Baptist church went to Sedalia where they attended a divisional meeting of the WMU which was held at the First Baptist church. The Rev. and Mrs. C. A. McClure and daughter, Kay, were among those who attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray English of Kansas City visited his father, George English, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ray Hall, Sunday. Mr. English, who has been quite ill, is improving satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Scrivner had as guests Wednesday night and Thursday their daughter, Mrs. John Moore, Mr. Moore and daughter, Karen, of St. Louis and Mrs. Scrivner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pennington of California.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Moore of Kansas City were guests Sunday and Monday of her mother, Mrs. Josephine Denham.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kennedy and son of Lexington were week-end guests of her sister, Mrs. Oliver Mackesty, and Mr. Mackesty.

Mrs. Nell Grimes spent the week-end at Holden with her mother, Mrs. Mabel Lewis. She was accompanied by her nephew, Hubert Bybee of Holden.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hall of Sedalia were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Joy Payne.

Mrs. A. C. Dierking returned home Sunday after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Tom Newsome of Morton, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nickles had their daughter and son-in-law from Oregon and daughter and granddaughter from Denver, Colo., visiting them for several days.

Mrs. J. E. Berry spent Sunday afternoon in Sedalia visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Longan, and daughter, Miss Nell Longan.

Miss Nellie Zink has returned home from a visit with relatives in Tulsa, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schmidle returned to their home in Cape Girardeau Friday after visiting her sister, Mrs. Edgar McKinney, and Mr. McKinney. They also visited relatives in Higginsville and Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Plager of La Jolla, Calif., who are guests of Mr. Plager's mother of Pilot Grove and Mrs. Plager's sister, Mrs. Anna Laird, went to Kansas City for a visit with friends.

Mrs. Ernest Haggard of Kansas City was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Turner and other relatives and friends this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wylie had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saitor, Mrs. Millard Thustan, Br. and Mrs. L. G. Saitor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sitton and Frank Owen, all of Fulton. Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Saitor remained for a few days visit.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Pitchford spent Sunday afternoon at Ionia where they attended the 75th anniversary celebration of the Ionia Methodist church.

Wallace Stueke and Mr. and Mrs. Lanack of Amada, Colo., were visitors in the Clarence Renken home for two weeks. They also visited other relatives. Mrs. Lanack is the former Nadine Stuerke.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Law of Tulsa, Okla., visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have recently moved into their new home.

The interesting texture and simple black patterning make this new "San Juan" carpet suitable for modern interiors and ranch houses in particular. A blended fabric, it is a new addition to the well-known "Ranchita" group. Choice of three colors

IT'S A TREASURE!—Mrs. Seymore Reigrod of Brooklyn, N. Y., is on the inside looking out of the "treasure chest" opened during the fall frolic of the Hemophilia Foundation, Inc., at the Hotel St. Regis, New York. The social affair was a benefit staged to help swell the "treasure chest" of the Foundation, which is devoted to fighting the dread "bleeder" disease of hemophilia.

Armstrong Wants Strong Action Taken On Slave Labor Camps

PARIS, Nov. 8—(AP)—Rep. O. K. Armstrong (R-Mo) called on the United Nations Wednesday to take strong action against Soviet slave labor camps.

He told a news conference that he is asking the U. S. delegation to press for specific action on that question, and also on the charge that Russia still holds millions of war prisoners, and is guilty of mass extermination in the Baltic countries.

Armstrong emphasized that he was speaking for himself but said he represents the sentiment of at least 50 members of Congress.

Shackleford Club With Mrs. R. King

The Shackleford Home Economics club met Thursday afternoon, Nov. 1, at the home of Mrs. Russell King, vice-president, who opened the meeting by singing "Song of Peace" and "I've Been Working in the Garden." Roll call was answered by a favorite Bible verse, with ten members present. Mrs. Charles Dial reported on achievement day and Mrs. Russell King and Mrs. Emmitt Yager each read a poem. Games were played and the meeting closed by reading the club collect.

The next meeting will be Dec. 6 at the home of Mrs. Gordon Lawson.

Nelson P.T.A. Will Present Play Nov. 23

By Orpha Lee McCoy

NELSON — The Nelson PTA held its regular monthly meeting Thursday, Nov. 1. Members were assigned to head the lunch rooms for the invitational tournament Nov. 12-17.

Friday, Nov. 23, at 7:30 p.m. is the date set for the PTA's three-act comedy, "Grandad Meets a Pal." The cast includes: Mrs. Laura Morton, played by Frances Marie Potter; Grandad, Raymond Dallrad; Angie, the maid, Mrs John Staley; Betty Shodduck, Mrs. Morton's niece, Opha Lee McCoy; Kip Shodduck, Charles Marcum Jack Norwood, Shuck Verts; Horatious Xenophon Hooley, Shell Geogan; stupid policeman, Willis Alfrey; Jane Woods, Velma Bryan, Mrs. Victoria Harrington, Martha Dollard; Della Harrington, Metta Bell Alfrey; Miss Drusilla Dobbin, Mrs. Charles Marcum.

The Shackleford Extension club met at the home of Mrs. Russell King Thursday afternoon, Nov. 1. There were 10 members present. Mrs. King presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Maude Younger, who is in California. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Dec. 6 at the home of Mrs. Gordon Lawson.

Mrs. H. P. Yeager of Peoria, Ill., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. D. Yeager, and other relatives.

The Baptist ladies had a very successful bazaar and food sale last Friday at the store of Mrs. I. M. Fowler and $45 was cleared.

The Christian ladies plan a bazaar, food sale and noon hour lunch Dec. 7 at the MFA store.

A large crowd from here and elsewhere attended the opening revival services Sunday at the Nelson Baptist church. The services will continue for two weeks. The Rev. Jack Lindsay, evangelist, and the Rev. William Rainwater will conduct the services. Sunday evening at 6 o'clock the ladies served supper in the Methodist church basement honoring the ministers, Mrs. Christianson and the team from the Youth for Christ Hour. The special music and evening sermon delivered by the visitors were very inspiring.

Miss Agnes Ritchey returned Sunday after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Newman and family of near Sweet Springs. They Newmans visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hinton.

Mrs. Harold McCorkle of Blackwater spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barnes and Gus Petry.

Mrs. John O'Brien of St. Louis spent last week visiting Mrs. Q. M. Fowler and Miss Faye Parrish. She returned home Saturday evening.

The Rev. and Mrs. O. W. Griffis and the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Reich attended the revival services last Friday at the Berea church conducted by the Rev. Yerian of Sweet Springs. The Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert Yerian and two daughters were dinner guests Wednesday of the Rev. and Mrs. Griffis and the Rev. and Mrs. Reich. Wednesday evening they were all dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Taylor of Postal. The Rev. and Mrs. Reich spent Thursday in Topeka, Kas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Younger and Pamela of Sunflower, Kas., spent the weekend at their home here. Sunday afternoon J. O. Younger, Raymond Dolland, Buster Rennison and George Scott went deer hunting in South Missouri.

Dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Tucker were: Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hufford, Gloria and Steve of Shackelford and Mrs. Bob Cunningham. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Deal, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hufford and Judy Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Williams of Sedalia, Dorothy Rennison and Bob Cunningham.

Roy Miller of Caney, Kas., spent several days with his sister, Mrs. M. V. Irvin, Mr. Irvin and Shirley.

The Rev. and Mrs. William Rainwater, the Rev. Jack Lindsay, Mrs. Alvira Christianson, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Conaway and family of Hughesville, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leaton and Jeanie of Marshall were dinner guests of Mrs. Bonnie Conaway and Charles.

These youthful clothes for holiday parties have just the right touch of sophistication. Strapless dress (left) with smooth-fitting bodice is rayon taffeta, has a crushed cuff of the fabric accented by black velvet ribbon. It has its own crinoline. Shepherd check (center) in novelty rayon taffeta is for informal parties, has scoop neckline, a shaped patent belt, very full skirt. Corded stripe (right) is crisp, is worn over crinoline petticoat. Ruffled sleevelets are worn high on the upper arm. All designs are in junior sizes.

IONIA

Methodist Church, Ionia, In 75th Year

By Mrs. Homer Howe

The Ionia Methodist church celebrated its 75th anniversary Sunday, Oct. 25.

The church was organized at the Robinson school with seven charter members in October of 1876. The first pastor was the Rev. Mr. Fordney. Later a church building was constructed on what is now a part of the Sherman Pritchard farm and a cemetery was established. In 1906 the Ionia church was completed and has now expanded to some 120 members.

At the service Sunday, Rev. Hougham preached at the morning service. At the noon hour a basket dinner was served in the church basement. Following dinner, a program was held in the auditorium. The church history was given by G. B. Brown; special music was given by the children's choir and the church choir. Letters were read from former members and pastors.

Among the guests present for the day were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schnabel and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Ransdell of Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kelb of Springfield; Mrs. Elmo Kreisler of Clinton; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Crenshaw, Mrs. Pearl Grose, Mrs. Cora Van Hoozier of Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Howe, Mrs. Josie Hampton of Sedalia; Mrs. Anna Martin, Mr. and Mrs. William Kelb and Mr. and Mrs. Young of Lincoln; and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hampy of Cole Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lake of Eldon visited Friday with Mr. Lake's daughter, Mrs. Clarence Riecke, and Mr. Riecke.

Everett Hesse returned the past week from Baldwin, Kas., where he had been working in the apple harvest.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Cox have moved to Lowry City where Mr. Cox will serve as pastor of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Nellie Wharton returned Sunday from Kansas City, where she had spent a week with her son, Bryson, and Mrs. Wharton.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Friedly moved on Thursday from the Albert Howe property to the Methodist parsonage. The Rev. Mr. Hougham, who will serve the Ionia church, also preaches at Lincoln and will reside there.

Mrs. Leonard Ragar went to St. Louis Thursday and accompanied her father, E. C. Weirhaye, home. Mr. Weirhaye, who has been a patient at Barnes hospital, is improved.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Maxwell moved from Cole Camp the past week to the Albert Howe property.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Ragar visited Sunday with Mrs. Ragar's father, E. C. Weirhaye, and her sister, Grace, at Warsaw.

Joetta and Leroy Hagston of Cole Camp are visiting this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Craig. Mr. and Mrs. Craig moved Monday from a farm nearl Lincoln to the Willard Howe farm.

The Ionia Parent-Teachers association sponsored a Hallowe'en party at the school house Tuesday evening. Prizes were awarded to the best masked in several classes.

Mrs. Josie Hampton of Sedalia is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Mather.

Richard Wehrman of Sycamore, Ill., is spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wehrman. Richard will go to Eastern Florida, where he has employment, after his vacation.

Mrs. D. W. Lacey, daughter and granddaughter, of Kansas City visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Marsh.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilborn attended church services at Windsor Sunday and were dinner guests of Mrs. Wilborn's brother, Austin Haggard, and Mrs. Haggard.

The 4-H clubs held a Hallowe'en party in Wilson's basement Friday evening with 20 members present. The evening was spent in Hallowe'en stunts and games. Refreshments were served.

The MYF of the Methodist church held its regular monthly social and business meeting Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Renfrew.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers and baby of Paris, Mo., visited over the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wehrman.

Don't Go Jumping to Quick Conclusions About Dealing With a Thyroid Deficiency

By Edwin P. Jordan M.D.
Written for NEA Service

An interesting question on the taking of thyroid pills is submitted by J. J. C. who says: "Would the taking of thyroid pills be harmful or make the thyroid overactice if this gland is in normal condition? I am a man in my late thirties and am troubled with presistent weakness and tired feeling and have consulted several doctors without discovering the source. A relative who is a druggsit thinks I may be suffering from thyroid deficiency and suggests that I take thyroid extract."

A—In answer to this question I want to say first that it seems unwise to conculde that one has thyroid deficiency merely because of a feeling of being weak and tired; there are many other much more likely posibilities.

If the thyroid gland is functioning normally, the taking of thyroid pills would probaby not affect the gland one way or another. But the taking of additional thyroid in the form of pills when there is enough secretion already is not only unnecessary but might produce some effects of overactivity such as nervousness, rapid heartbeat and other undesirable actions.

Q—I am 53 years old and have had high blood pressure for years. Various people have told me that onions and garlice are good for that ailment. Is it true?—Mrs. A.S.

A—This belief is remarkably persistent but seems to have little scientific foundation.

* * *

Q—Can the medical profession do anything for rectal fissure other than to advise palliatives such as suppositories, salves, etc.?
R. H. S.

A—Yes, surgery. This is the best anyway.

* * *

Q—My 18-month-old son has a large birthmark on the side of his face and neck. The doctors have discouraged treatment. Where can I get the treatments recommended by you?—Mrs. E. C. M.

A—There are several kinds of birthmarks and not all of them should be treated. Some, for example, will fade of themselves and others must be left alone for different reasons.

The opinion of doctors who see the lesion is therefore to be relied on; all that can be done in a column like this is to mention some of the kinds and in general what can be done for them.

* * *

Q—My husband has heard that there are injections which can be given to cure smoking. Can you tell us where they can be obtained as he wants to give up smoking on account of sinus trouble.
Mrs. W. M.

A—I don't know of any such injections and should feel most dubious about them.

* * *

Q—A few years ago I had an abscessed gland on my neck. Since that time I have had a breaking out in my scalp and my hair has been falling at an alarming rate. Could the trouble I had with my neck be the cause of the scalp condition? A. R.

A—It doesn't seem likely.

* * *

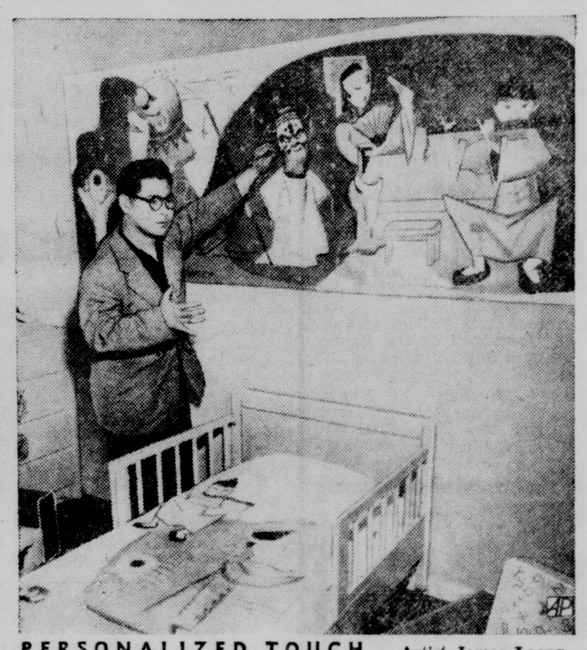

Q—How old does one have to be to have angina pectoris? I am 27 and have symptoms just like those of angina, but am I not too young? Miss F. C.

A—It would be most unusual for such a young woman to have angina pectoris. Why not have your heart examined to make sure?
